Fragmentary Radio Message From Lost Fliers

Airmen Believed Wandering In Australian Woods

Parts of Radio Message Picked Up Were Name "Smith" and Words "Men Eating Wild Fowl". Kingsford Smith Party Missing Since Last Saturday.

London, April 4.—A dispatch to The London Evening News from Melbourne, Australia, says a Morse code message was picked up which may have a bearing on the search for Captain Charles Kingsford Smith and three other missing Southern Cross fliers in Northwestern Australia.

The message, the dispatch says, was weak and fragmentary and contained the name "Smith" and the words "men eating wild fowl".

A wireless amateur working a long distance set in Australia reported he had received the message.

CHILLIWACK NOW POLICED BY MEN OF B.C. FORCE

Chilliwack, April 4.—The policing of the city and municipality of Chilliwack is under provincial control to-day. The new staff, consisting of Sergeant John Macdonald of New Westminster, and Constables P. Fryer and E. A. Jarvis of the British Columbia Police, took over the duties yesterday.

H. Farrant, chief of police here for seven years, has been taken on the strength of the B.C. Police and will in all probability be connected with the motor license department at New Westminster.

A letter expressing appreciation of the services of Chief Farrant was sent to him by order of Mayor Barber, E. Maclellan and J. T. Henley, police commissioners.

HEADS LOAN BOARD

GEORGE SANGSTER

sidely known among livestock men of Western Canada as will be Provincial Superintendent of Federal Farm Loan Board

THREE SAANICH FARMERS FORM LOAN BOARD

George Sangster of North Saanich, H. E. Tanner of Keswong and Walter Patterson of Gordon Head will form the British Columbia Farm Loan Board, according to word received this afternoon from Dr. J. D. Maclellan, Commissioner of Farm Loans for the Federal Government.

George Sangster will be Provincial Superintendent as well as a member of the Provincial Board.

Dr. Maclellan states that the British Columbia Board is now ready to function, and will commence operations as soon as the Provincial Government has completed with two formal recommendations.

George Sangster, formerly an elderman of this city, and managing secretary of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, is one of the most widely-known livestock raisers in British Columbia.

H. E. Tanner, formerly a member of the Provincial Legislature, has served for many years as manager of the Saanich Fruitgrowers' Association. Walter Patterson is one of the leading small fruit growers of Gordon Head.

CITY PASSES ON NEW C.P.R. HOTEL WING

Permit Issued To-day By City For $2,000,000 Largest Since Pre-war Years

Additional $500,000 To Be Spent in Renewal of Laundry Service

Victoria's largest individual building permit in post-war years was issued to-day, when the construction of the new north wing and incidental alterations at the Empress Hotel received city sanction at a declared cost of $2,000,000. In addition to this, $500,000 is named as the cost of future laundry and other extensions, bringing the total value of the work contemplated up to $2,500,000, exclusive of furnishings.

The big permit was issued by James Barf, City Building Inspector, after he had checked over the mass of plans and details in connection with the hotel contract. Plumbing and heating work alone in connection with the new wing will amount to some $122,000, and other special contracts are equally large in proportion. The general construction contract is held by Carter, Hall & Aldinger of Winnipeg and Vancouver.

Steel is fast rising at the site. Foundation for the immense weight of the new seven-story wing was secured by the driving of eleven steel caissons, this phase of the work being handled by the Kennedy-Leith Construction Company and associates.

Simultaneous with the granting of the main permit for the new wing, workmen commenced the construction of a building next to the old Welles warehouse on Humboldt Street, on property purchased recently by the C.P.R. for $40,000, and standing on the site that will be used in connection with the erection of the laundry in a new location.

A detail of the whole work shows $1,500,000 as the expected cost of the north wing, $500,000 additional for changes and elevator additions in the existing building, and $500,000 for future laundry extension.

GREAT PANIC AT HANKOW

Wuhan Forces Collapse and Chinese Government Troops Move Against City

Hankow, China, April 4.—The Wuhan armies, which have been opposing the advance of the Nationalist Government troops on Hankow, collapsed to-day and were retreating on all fronts.

The Wuhan general commanding the Huang-Pei sector went over to the Nationalist Government, thereby permitting Nationalist troops to penetrate the defence line of the Wuhan forces. Wuhan troops are retreating in confusion.

PANIC AT HANKOW

Panic reigns in the city of Hankow. Refugees are streaming into the foreign concession area. Martial law has been proclaimed.

Man Loses Life As Result Of Accident

Huntingdon, April 4.—Injured on the head when a truck in which he was riding was struck by a British Columbia Electric Railway milk train, running from Chilliwack to Vancouver, John Miesfeldt, a farmer, died while being rushed in the same train to the hospital at Sumas, Wash.

The accident happened about 9 a.m. to-day at the first crossing east of the Vedder Mountain power sub-station when the truck, driven by Miesfeldt's son-in-law, W. Benz, had come down the hill on Mountain Road. Mr. Benz escaped uninjured.

NEW SAFETY SEAT FOR AEROPLANES

Trenton, N.J., April 4.—Two passengers, one a woman, were safely dropped from the seat of an aeroplane at an altitude of 1,000 feet as the Mercer Airport yesterday.

The experiment, conducted by the manufacturers of the parachute used, was designed to prove to a group of army and navy officials the feasibility of the "new safety seat".

HERE TO-MORROW FOR CONFERENCE

LORD AND LADY WILLINGDON

His Excellency the Governor-General, accompanied by Lady Willingdon, will arrive in the city to-morrow morning to open the International Conference on Education and Leisure. The visit will be an unofficial one and his vice-regal party will be welcomed at the hotel by Lieutenant-Governor R. Randolph Bruce and Miss Mackenzie. The acting Premier, Hon. R. H. Poirer, Commander L. W. Murray and Brigadier Sutherland Brown. The party includes Phyllis Egerton, niece of Lady Willingdon, E. S. Miele, secretary to his Excellency; Lieut.-Col. H. Willis O'Connor, D.S.O.; Capt. R. H. Poirer, M.B.E., and Capt. R. J. Streetfield. Their Excellencies will leave Victoria on Sunday on the maiden trip of the West Coast of Vancouver Island. The vice-regal party will return to Vancouver on Sunday, April 11.

NEW MANAGER FOR CREAMERY

Vernon, April 4.—Thomas S. Martin, salesman for Burr and Company Limited, will be manager of the Okanagan Valley Co-operative Creamery. Association it is announced.

The co-operative creamery last year paid an average price of forty cents a pound for butter fat and at the end of the year distributed $4,442.93, or one cent a pound, as a bonus to cream shippers.

ROBERT J. SMITH VANCOUVER, DIES

Vancouver, April 4.—Robert J. Smith, Vancouver, B.C., died at his home, 1001 Burr Street, after a long illness. He was 68 years of age.

Mr. Smith was a well-known figure in the city, having been a member of the Burr Street Elevator and other grain plants in this city.

Report of Air Service Merger Now Confirmed

Ottawa, April 4.—The merging of the Fairchild Aviation Limited of Grand Mere, Que., the International Airways of Canada Limited of Toronto and Hamilton, was confirmed by E. W. Wilson of Grand Mere, president of the Fairchild Company, in an interview while passing through Ottawa on an automobile trip.

"Each will retain its own identity as an operating unit," Mr. Wilson said. The president of the new company will be E. W. Wilson, who will be in charge of the manufacturing of Fairchild machines.

He said the site of the factory had not been decided upon, but it would be in the province of Quebec.

VANCOUVER BOY CYCLIST INJURED

Vancouver, April 4.—Lauglin Benwick, thirteen, of Clarendon Street, Vancouver, is in a critical condition in a hospital as the result of an accident which occurred at 5:30 yesterday afternoon when the bicycle he was riding collided with a street car at Commercial Drive and Broadway.

He is stated by hospital authorities to be suffering from a fracture of the skull.

GOVERNOR TO-DAY IS IN VANCOUVER

Lord and Lady Willingdon and Party Spend Day in Terminal City

Vancouver, April 4.—Viscount Willingdon, Governor-General of Canada, and Viscountess Willingdon are guests of Vancouver to-day at the beginning of their annual holiday visit on the British Columbia Coast.

To-night they will leave here for Victoria.

ENJOY GAME OF GOLF

A game of golf at Jericho Country Club occupied this morning. In the afternoon the Viscountess will attend a tea to be given by Provincial Chapter I.O.G.E. This evening Lord and Lady Willingdon will dine with Col. H. S. Tobin and from there will proceed to a concert at the Auditorium. After the concert they will embark for Victoria.

NO OFFICIAL FUNCTIONS

No civic receptions or official functions of any nature were arranged here at the request of the Governor-General. It had been stated the party wished to remain private during as many days as possible of the present trip.

AT VICTORIA THE VISITORS WILL BE GUESTS AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE

The Governor-General is scheduled to open the conference of the National Council of Education on Saturday evening.

IN VANCOUVER APRIL 15

The Governor-General will return to Vancouver on Monday, April 15. He has accepted an invitation to attend a dinner and reception to be tendered at Hotel Vancouver as a conclusion of the conference of the National Council of Education here.

Salmon Fisheries Will Benefit From Conference

Vancouver, April 4.—The progress of scientific investigation of the life habits of the salmon, prize fish of coast waters, will be under consideration here to-morrow morning when forty Government fisheries executives from California, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and Alaska meet here at the fourth gathering of the International Pacific Salmon Investigation Federation.

MINE ACCIDENT CAUSES DEATHS

Sudbury, Ont., April 4.—Caught in a slide of earth, three men were smothered to death in the Levack mine of the International Nickel Company twenty miles west of here early this morning.

Those killed were B. Hrocyk, twenty-nine, E. Verticek, twenty-eight, and E. Hual, twenty-seven. A fourth man, Nick Soefen, had a narrow escape from death.

The men had gone on shift this morning and were working on a rise along the footwall between the fifth and seventh levels when a block of muck which had been blasted the previous evening gave way. The three men were hurled down distance of twenty feet and buried in the falling muck.

Two hours later rescuers recovered the bodies, which are being brought here.

PLANE SERVICE TO ALASKA IS TO START SOON

Seattle, April 4.—With the survey work completed, P. T. McCarty, president and general manager of the International Airways, to-day announced here the aviation company would start a passenger service from Seattle to British Columbia and Alaska early this summer, operating eight ten-passenger seaplanes.

McCarty arrived in Seattle last night after a round-trip flight to Juneau, Alaska, in a Boeing seaplane with four other passengers, including two women. The machine was flown to Olympia last night from Vancouver, B.C., to be left with a friend. The seaplane party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. McCarty, Mrs. J. W. McCord, E. J. Burke and George Lortie, returned to Seattle late last night by automobile.

McCarty to-day declared the Boeing flying boat had functioned perfectly and that the trip had been made in easy stages for the party to survey the coast route. McCarty had been in Vancouver, Prince Rupert, Ketchikan and Juneau, the points the International Airways had scheduled for the proposed regular service. A branch line might be extended from Juneau to Skagway.

The concern intends to seek mail-carrying contracts from both the United States and Canadian governments.

EXPLOSION KILLS EIGHT MINERS

Brussels, April 4.—Eight miners perished to-day in a fire and explosion in a coal mine near Pannafay.

LAURIER CLUB TO DINE NEW LIBERAL HEAD

Pattullo Will Speak on Party Developments at Chamber of Commerce April 11

Victoria will stage its first reception to T. D. Pattullo, House leader of the Liberal Party, at a dinner to be given on Thursday, April 11, at the Chamber of Commerce, it was announced to-day by Stephen Jones, president of the Laurier Club.

Arrangements for the dinner have been placed in the hands of a committee consisting of A. D. Macfarlane, K.C., Joseph Patrick, C. H. O'Halloran, Neil Pollock, Charles Bishop, Francis Simpson, Henry Hall, K.C., Thomas Walker, W. M. Ivel, J. Stewart, Alderman Worthington and David Ramsay, who are co-operating with President Jones.

The dinner will be the occasion of the first public utterance of Mr. Pattullo made in this city since assuming the Liberal leadership. He will discuss party developments and happenings at the last session of the Legislature, and have something to say about the party's policy in the future.

"Tickets for the dinner are being handled by W. M. Ivel, Bishop and Worthington and at the Dominion Hotel.

Two On Motor Truck Lose Lives In Crash

Simcoe, Ont., April 4.—A man named Emil Hower was instantly killed and Ernest Egleschweiller of Toronto died a short time later in the Simcoe Hospital, and Harvey Pearle of Norwich, Ont., was critically injured when their truck was hit by a Lake Erie and Northern Radial car early this morning. The truck and its contents were demolished. The party was on its way to Norwich.

BALFOUR QUILTS PUBLIC CAREER

Earl Will Give Up Cabinet Post and Live in Rural Part of Great Britain

London, April 4 (Canadian Press Cable)—The Earl of Balfour has decided to sell his London house and settle in the country. Physicians advised this step, which is generally construed to mean the Earl is quitting public life. His throat has been a persistent source of trouble.

CANADIAN POOL HEAD HEARD BY U.S. SENATE GROUP

Washington, April 4. (By Francis G. Aldham, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—The management of their own marketing through the Wheat Pool had done more to give the Canadian farmers self-reliance and individual understanding of their business than anything else. A. T. McPhail, president of the Canadian Wheat Pool, told the United States Senate agricultural committee here to-day.

It was a good thing for the Canadian farmers that the Federal Government had not reappointed the Government Wheat Board in 1923, he said, as the farmers had benefited greatly by being thrown on their own resources.

Duke Of Gloucester Voyages On Red Sea

Suez, Egypt, April 4.—The Duke of Gloucester, third son of King George and Queen Mary, rejoined the liner Morea early to-day after a short visit to Cairo. He is en route to Japan.

COL. HENRY COCKSHUTT

who will preside at the Saturday evening session of the Conference on Education at the Royal Victoria Theatre. Colonel Cockshutt is one of four conference representatives from the University of Toronto, the others being George M. Wrong, professor emeritus of history; Brig-General C. H. Mitchell, dean of the faculty of engineering, and W. J. Dunlop, director of the university extension department. Colonel Cockshutt reached the city this afternoon.

COMMON TO CANADA

"The real purpose of this conference, in common with the three previous conferences of the Council, is to develop a keener appreciation of the educational problems common to the whole of Canada, as the solution of these problems must depend on the closest measure of co-operation between the provinces but between every organization in this country working for the common welfare, according to Major Key. To an extraordinary extent that purpose already has been achieved, for never before has the Council received such encouraging cooperation from every part of the Dominion. Virtually every movement which is associated in any way with public problems has assisted in promoting the success of this conference."

WAR BOMBS DROPPED
Naco, Ariz., April 4.—A Mexican rebel plane just before dark last night flashed over the twin border towns of Naco in Sonora and Arizona and dropped three bombs. One of the misalies fell on United States soil about twenty feet from the international line. One of the others struck near a federal machine gun which during the day had sprayed bullets upon attacking rebel caviary. No damage was done by any of the three bombs.

AT THE THEATRES

After a brief but wholly enjoyable excursion into other fields of film-dom than those in which he has for many years been the bright and shining star, Tom Mix is back in the great southwest in his latest screen presentation, in which he and Tony, "the wonder horse," cavort over familiar ground and amid their customary surroundings.

Which is a manner of saying that his new FBO starring feature, "Outlawed," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, is a typical "western" drama, that includes a bandit gang, a bank robbery, a sheriff's posse on the trail and other elements for thrills and suspense, whereas its predecessor was laid in the desert of North Africa and bristled with Arab tribesmen, mosques, turbans, camels and such.

COLISEUM PLAYERS PLEASE IN FINE STAGE ATTRACTION

With a splendidly entertaining show entitled "The Balloon Girl," the Coliseum Players, under the direction of Raymond "Toby" Leitch, are pleasing capacity houses at the Coliseum Theatre all this week. The players take the stage every evening at 8:30, and on Saturday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock.

All the players are well cast this week and give fine performances in their respective roles. "Toby" Leitch provides lots of fun as the rusticated country policeman with a habit of telling the most glaring fabrications. Miss Lenore Webster is attractive as the "balloon girl." Miss Ada Daniels gives a most realistic impersonation as a loud-mouthed woman of a country town. Miss Esther Todd is good as her daughter. Forrest Taylor has a difficult role as a young country parson doing his best for right in spite of many obstacles. Leon Cluff is a big-hearted thief. Louis Bagley is the cowardly, thieving brother of the parson. Although not in the play this week, Paul Wallace pleases his audience with his rendition between the acts of "Lay My Head Beneath a Rose."

On the screen this week the management is presenting an all-British picture, entitled "Balloon Don't Give." It is a comedy film, although some splendid thrilling scenes of life aboard submarines are shown.

Where To Go To-night

THE STAGE
Coliseum—The Coliseum Players in "The Balloon Girl."
Crystal Garden—Swimming and Dancing.

LOIS MORAN HAS LEADING ROLE IN CAPITOL PICTURE

Admirers of winsome Lois Moran, who saw her play a slightly sophisticated role in "Sharp Shooters," will have an opportunity to see her go the limit as a pampered little coquette who has become the dupe of a gang of high class jewelry thieves. She comes to the Capitol Theatre to-day for three days in the Fox production, "Blindfold." In this picture she is a plain little news writer in the beginning of the story. Later she suffers a terrific mental shock and becomes the victim of amnesia.

Others in the cast of this Charles Francis Coe story are George O'Brien, Earle Foxe, Fritz Feld, Andy Clyde, Maria Alba, Don Terry, Crawford Kent, Robert Homans and John Kelly. On the stage at the Capitol are the Marion Baker Musical Company, Madame Millicent Raven, holder of a scholarship in Trinity College, and favorite pupil of Sir Charles Santley, in a song recital, and the Three Tom Cats, in a novelty musical. Chris Wade and his Capitol Theatre orchestra will feature a musical novelty entitled "An Arizona Episode."

FAMOUS CROOK PLAY OPENING TO-DAY AT "THE DOMINION HERE"

"Alias Jimmy Valentine," William Haines' latest starring vehicle, a picture synchronized with sound and four reels of all-talking sequences, opens a three-day engagement at the Dominion Theatre to-day. The film is adapted from the famous crook play of Paul Armstrong, which set the standard for productions of its type when it played on Broadway.

An unusually strong supporting cast surrounds the star. Leila Hyams, picked by Henry Clive, the artist, as the most beautiful blonde in Hollywood, has the leading feminine role. Karl Dane and Tully Marshall play the parts of Haines' fellow safe crackers, and Lionel Barrymore is cast as the detective who is always trailing the adventurous trio. This is Haines' first "straight" dramatic role since he has achieved stardom. Usually he is associated with the heavy wisecracking type of modern youth, and his plays are usually vehicles of laughter first of all. While "Alias Jimmy Valentine" has comedy scenes and lines, it is the tense story that holds the attention all the way.

BROKEN STRING OF PEARL BEADS HELD UP FILMING

A string broke! Tap, tap, tap—and more taps as pearl beads slid off the thread and scattered all over the floor. The mere breaking of that string of pearls cost hundreds of dollars in lost time. It happened while King Baggot was directing a very important scene for the Tiffany-Stahl feature, "The House of Scandal," now here at the Playhouse Theatre. Two strings of pearls, identical in length and size, were needed, one string being a false copy of the real pearls.

While the pearls were being picked up, matched and restrung, and everyone who has string graduated pearls knows what a job that is, Dorothy Sebastian, Lee Shumway, Jack Singleton, Otto Corrado and Ida Darling waited.

DOUBLE BILL AT GARDEN FRIDAY

Popular Co-optimist Comedy Company Will Present Two Farces at Crystal Garden

Two rollicking farces—"Tit-for-Tat" and "The Colonel and the Lady"—will be produced by the popular Co-optimist Comedy Company at the Crystal Garden to-morrow evening.

"The Colonel and the Lady" is a scintillating comedy by Dawson Mullard and Holman Clarke. In the story of the play Colonel Bretherton commands a regiment whose unwritten law is that any officer who marries must apply for an exchange to another military unit. Carven, a subaltern, marries and conceals his wife in a farm near the barracks, merely telling her on no account to visit his quarters. Needless to say, she disobeys. Visiting the barracks in the company of a friend, Lady Wegg.

The colonel turns up unexpectedly with Carven, whose wife explains that she is his aunt, who ordinarily lives in a bungalow "on the Mississippi in Australia." Naturally, the colonel is not entirely satisfied with the explanation. Wegg, a jealous and frangible man, also arrives on the scene, having traced his wife to the barracks. An amusing complication ensues, leading up to a very dramatic and hilarious climax.

The cast will comprise Mr. and Mrs. A. Legge-Willis, Miss Betty Jennings and W. Taylor and P. Howden.

LOOKING THROUGH GLASSES

"Tit-for-Tat" is enacted by three people—a husband and wife and their butler. The butler is suspected of being responsible for a mysterious disappearance.

Mrs. John B. Malone
says this new help:
"Works fine in washer"

"I wish every woman would try this safe, easy way of washing clothes. Why, when I take them out of the washer everything is so spotless that there's not a bit of hard work for me to do. And it's so safe! The clothes don't fray nearly so quickly now--there's so little rubbing. Rinso is great for dishwashing and all kinds of cleaning. It makes such thick, cleansing suds in our water that the work is done in almost no time. It saves me from keeping my hands in hot water, too."

MRS. JOHN B. MALONE,

Thick suds--in washer or tub
The letter above is typical of thousands received from delighted Rinso users. "Never saw such lively, lasting suds!" they read now, "many write." DELEGATES OF TEN NATIONS GATHER FOR BIG PARLEY

The publicity given to the purposes of the conference and the interest manifested in it completely across the Dominion is really amazing.

While the prime purpose of the Council is the study and solution of Canadian problems, a more special purpose is to draw the widest possible attention to certain aspects of our western civilization which are crying out for consideration. By gathering together men and women who have devoted their lives to the study of these problems the Council hopes to hammer at certain principles which we believe are essential to national welfare.

GOVERNOR DUE

His Excellency the Governor-General, who will deliver the inaugural address on Saturday, accompanied by Lady Willingdon and suite, will reach Victoria to-morrow morning from Ottawa.

P. Leaching, representing Sir William Clark, High Commissioner for Great Britain in Canada, has arrived in the city from the Federal Capital to attend the conference.

The entire Australasian delegation has been in the city for some days, while the main section of the British and European delegations are scheduled to arrive here to-day or to-morrow.

Sir Aubrey Symonds, K.C.B., permanent secretary of the British Board of Education, Professor Winifred Cullis, professor of physiology at the University of London and president of the British Federation of University Women, H. M. Richards, C.M.G., chief inspector of schools for Great Britain, Ernest Raymond, author of "Toll England," Sir Charles Grant Robertson, principal of Birmingham University and Professor Laurence F. Rushbrook Williams, Foreign Minister to the State of Patiala and official representative of the Indian Chamber of Princes, are expected to arrive here by to-morrow afternoon's boat from the mainland.

Col. The Hon. Henry Cockshutt, former Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario and a member of the Toronto University Board of Governors, reached the city this afternoon from the East. Another prominent arrival to-day was J. C. Stobart, education director of the British Broadcasting Corporation and the last delegate to arrive, and the most picturesque, will reach here Saturday morning from India in the person of Sir Rabindranath Tagore, world famous poet and philosopher.

OFFICIAL PROGRAMME

The official programme of the Victoria conference was issued to-day. There will be a lunch-hour programme of short films from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. to-morrow at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

The films will depict "The Making of a Rock," "The Native Animals of Australia," "The History of Electricity" and "The Tyneside Industries." The films will show to what interesting educational purposes the cinema may be used.

Under the chairmanship of Mayor Herbert Anscomb, at the Royal Victoria Theatre at 2:30 o'clock, an exhibition film illustrating the physical

NEW METHODS IN EDUCATION ARE SPEAKER'S TOPIC

Vancouver, April 4.--The tendency in education toward a complete standardization of practice was criticized in a provocative and witty speech by Professor Eden Quainton of the University of Washington at the fifth session of the annual convention of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation here this forenoon.

"University education at least is becoming a filling station," he said. "The student walks in, is oiled, greased and given a full gas tank and is sent away a B.A."

The chief problem before humanity to-day the professor said, was to bear up the weight of the colossal civilization with which life might be oppressed. He thought education might help.

A limit of education for most persons should be the high school, in Mr. Quainton's opinion. He said that if all students should go to the university the university would be "ruined."

In certain American universities, he declared, the standards of scholarship had been depressed to the level of the "semi-moron" by the influx of great numbers of intrinsically unintelligent persons.

Mr. Quainton is a former Victorian, the son of Dean Quainton.

FLIGHT PLANNED

Tacoma, April 4.--Plans are now being completed here for a non-stop Trans-Pacific solo flight from Tacoma to Tokyo, a distance of 4,700 miles.

Lieut. Harold Bromley, Tacoma aviator, a native-born Victorian, B.C. man, will pilot the plane. It was announced yesterday.

A group of Tacoma capitalists is backing the project. Through the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce it was announced the financing had been completed and purchase of a plane negotiated.

Bromley expected to leave for Los Angeles to-day or to-morrow to take charge of the completion of the plane and the making of the final arrangements for a preliminary non-stop flight from Los Angeles to Tacoma.

The plane that has been purchased is the big Lockheed Vega monoplane designed for the Sir Hubert Wilkins Antarctic expedition. It is under construction at Burbank, California.

training of Japanese girls will be introduced by T. Fukuma. This film is being shown through the courtesy of the Imperial Japanese Government.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION
This will be followed by an address on "Education for Health," by Robert Jarman, director of physical education for the city of Leeds, England.

Mr. Jarman's address will be illustrated by specially selected groups of boys and girls of the Victoria schools in physical training and folk dancing.

The evening programme to-morrow will commence at 8:15 o'clock at the Royal Victoria Theatre with Dr. L. S. King, president of the University of British Columbia, in the chair.

The address on "Music and Leisure" will be delivered by Campbell Melville and will be illustrated by the Canadian Singers.

EDUCATION IN INDIA
The chief address of the evening will be given by Professor Laurence F. Rushbrook Williams, who will speak on Education in India.

Following the address by Professor Williams, a reception will be held at the Parliament Buildings by the Government of British Columbia.

The conference delegates and members will be received by His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada, and Viscountess Willingdon, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia and Mrs. Mackenzie and the Acting-Premier of British Columbia.

LUNCHEON ON SATURDAY
Saturday's programme will be opened at 12:30 at the Empress Hotel with a luncheon tendered by the Provincial Government to visiting delegates to the conference.

The inaugural address will be delivered at the Royal Victoria Theatre by Viscount Willingdon, the chair being taken at 8:15 p.m. by Col. Hon. Henry Cockshutt, L.L.D.

TAGORE TO SPEAK
A series of pictures illustrating the architectural beauty of Indian schools and colleges will be shown preliminary to the entrance of Sir Rabindranath Tagore, the great Indian philosopher, who will speak on "The Philosophy of Love."

On Sunday at 11 a.m., the conference service will be held at Christ Church Cathedral, the speaker being Ernest Raymond, English novelist, and former padre with the British army at Gallipoli.

EFFORTS OF NATIVE RUNNERS
Sydney, Australia, April 4.--Australians look to native runners as offering the greatest prospect of finding Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, Charles T. Ulm and their two flying companions of the monoplane Southern Cross, missing somewhere east of Wyndham in northwestern Australia, since last Sunday.

It is feared aeroplanes now engaged in the search, have little chance of sighting the missing men in the wild country where they are supposed to be lost, particularly if the rain persists.

The runners are capable of covering about fifty miles a day and are able to go where white men scarcely could penetrate. They have, too, a cunning means of transmitting news by signals which might be invaluable in their quest.

Nevertheless the search by planes is to be continued, weather permitting. Five machines had made preparations to start to-day, looking for the four men. One of them was to carry physicians and all were to carry food and medical supplies.

Meanwhile it was assumed Captain Kingsford-Smith and his companions, if not injured in landing and able to get food--and barring other contingencies--were trying to reach civilization. Captain Kingsford-Smith had some knowledge of the country before the flight was started, and the party had charts and navigation instruments. The men also possessed pistols and a supply of ammunition, which would enable them to kill game for food if they should encounter any.

ant. Mr. Jeffrey said this position was now reversed, and the title "Technical College" would better apply than "School of Mines."

A review of the curriculum showed the school covered a wide range of trade classes, and also provides technical education required for the professional side of engineering. Sections also deal with commercial work and the domestic arts. In its most advanced work the school is closely associated with the University of Adelaide, the two institutions uniting in provision of engineering courses leading to the bachelor of engineering degree.

PRACTICAL WORK
Practical work is emphasized as much as possible, and before a diploma is granted the candidate is required to supply evidence of at least twelve months practical work, appropriate to the course done outside the school.

The South Australia School is supported partly by students' fees, but mainly by an annual grant from the Government. The amount of the grant last year was $25,000, fees amounting to $2,500, being contributed by 4,000 students. Mr. Jeffrey stated that the school has a full-time staff of ninety-one teachers, and in addition there are forty-three part-time instructors.

The gap between the primary school and the technical college is bridged by the junior technical schools, now established in metropolitan areas and rural centres in all the states of Australia. At Adelaide the high school attendance exceeds 400 students. No fees are charged by technical high schools, and those required by the School of Mines and Industries are very low.

The system of wool production, classing and packing developed by the speaker, was explained, the students doing the work under the supervision of a skilled classer and instructor. The course takes five years to obtain a final certificate of proficiency.

PAYS TECHNICAL SCHOOLS COST
"It is difficult to estimate the cumulative influence these classes have exerted. Experts agree that the South Australian wool is the best prepared wool in the Commonwealth, and that the increased returns, due to better classing, represent far more than the total expenditure upon technical education in the state since its inception," Mr. Jeffrey stated.

"Australia has for some time devoted much attention to the education of her apprentices in the skilled trades. In South Australia the Technical Education of Apprentices Act has been in force since 1917. This provides for compulsory attendance at technical classes on one half-day and one evening per week, for a period of three years, by apprentices in proclaimed trades in proclaimed districts. Compulsory apprenticeship is being advocated, on lines in effect in Queensland since 1924," said Mr. Jeffrey, reviewing the legislation in effect in the other states of the Commonwealth.

THE I'M ALONE CASE

THE moral and international legal aspects of the I'm Alone case are dealt with in a recent temperate editorial article in The Montreal Star.

Under the first head our contemporary points out that Capt. Randall was engaged in the smuggling trade, and whatever glamour and romance there may be in sentimental minds about such operations, the fact remains that the skipper and his owners were defying the laws of a friendly neighbor, and by so doing threatened to cause friction and annoyance between the United States and Canada for their own personal gain. "Captain Randall was engaged in this deliberately," The Star proceeds. "He knew the risks he ran and he was willing to take those risks for adequate remuneration. It is unfortunate that Britain has to be drawn into a serious diplomatic entanglement through having to champion the cause of this law-breaker who in the good old days would have hung from the yard arm if he had been caught. It was the Jolly Roger or the Skull and Crossbones that Captain Randall ought to have flung from the masthead and not the Canadian Mercantile Marine flag, on which he has brought dishonor."

The Montreal Star, assuming that the authorities at Washington will be insistent that international law shall be strictly obeyed by its own officers, observes that if Captain Randall was ill-treated and if he was denied the facilities for communicating with the British Consul, it would be unfair to presume that the United States will not punish those guilty of such unethical conduct. Canada will be taking the proper course, the only course, if she insists that such rights as Captain Randall had not forfeited are fully and scrupulously protected and that apology and indemnity be offered if the charge of persecution and cruelty are established, is our Eastern contemporary's judgment.

The issue, however, is considered broader than that involved in the personal inconvenience suffered by the skipper of a schooner engaged in this trade. The Star recalls that in 1924 a treaty was signed between Britain and the United States under the terms of which Britain offered to aid the neighboring republic in the suppression of the contraband liquor traffic and made certain concessions to that end. Fears were expressed at the time the treaty was signed that these concessions might lead to grave international difficulties, and these fears have proved well founded in more than one case, culminating in the issue raised by the present incident. That a vessel which had entered the four-league limit should be liable to continuous pursuit, not by one but by two vessels in relay, the Montreal paper argues, was never contemplated by the framers of the treaty. It is claimed that the I'm Alone was sunk 200 miles from the coast. At any rate the I'm Alone was not within the four-league limit when the Wolcott gave chase to her and overhauled her.

This law cannot be accepted for justification of the sinking of the I'm Alone, nor for the drowning of one of the crew, which was a result of that sinking. On humanitarian grounds, also, there can be no justification for the endangering of the lives of the crew any more than there is for the promiscuous firing by an officer in making an arrest of one who has committed a misdemeanor.

Thus it will be clear that two points must be settled before and apart from the question of indemnity for personal suffering. Did the pursuit begin within the four-league limit and were the violent means adopted by the pursuers warranted? Captain Randall claims that he was on the high seas and had completed the one hour's steaming time prescribed by the Treaty of 1924. If this contention is established, the matter will be simplified.

Perhaps, out of the controversy, there will arise a clarification of the run-running situation in its international implications. Certainly as far as Canada is concerned she should not allow her territory to be a base for bootlegging to foreign countries—with its train of piracy and underworld violence—not merely because this facilitates bootlegging and law-breaking in her own country, but out of a sense of her own self-respect. Incidentally, we have set our signature to a treaty, under which we are pledged to do our utmost to stop international smuggling.

THE SPIRIT OF MILWAUKEE

ALTHOUGH the fond recollection of the "beer that made Milwaukee famous" was not potent enough to win Wisconsin for Al. Smith in the presidential election, it is still very much alive in that state. In a referendum yesterday on state enforcement of prohibition, a large majority was recorded against the law under which Wisconsin has been trying to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment. The voters also were against the penalties enacted for making home-brew stronger than the Volstead Act permits.

The result of this referendum indicates that other issues than that of prohibition influenced the electors in the contest between Mr. Hoover and Mr. Smith. Otherwise, Wisconsin, true to its wet proclivities, would have gone Democratic. In fact, it is well known that Mr. Hoover, although a champion of prohibition, captured a number of wet states, while Mr. Smith no doubt won some dry states. The presidential election, therefore, can not be strictly regarded as a test of the sentiment of the United States on this issue, although there is little question that the majority of the people of the republic are determined to stand by the Eighteenth Amendment.

Wisconsin's decision yesterday means that Washington will receive no help from the officials of that state in the enforcement of prohibition. It is doubtful if it has received very much in any case. Indeed, in states where the prevailing sentiment is wet the Federal Government is likely to be hampered by state officials. This involves an enormous expenditure on the part of Washington, which is compelled to police wet states as far as prohibition and its allied law-breaking are concerned. On the other hand, the refusal of states to co-operate with the Federal Government in the enforcement of the law exposes them to a reign of crime seriously inimical to the public interest, since bootlegging is the parent of gang violence and innumerable other disturbances of the peace.

OUR MOVING WORLD

THE latest experiment by the British Air Ministry is being conducted with a machine which it is claimed will ascend and descend vertically like a lift, hover motionless in mid-air, and rise from and land on a space no bigger than the roof of a building. It would be possible to wheel such a machine from a garden shed and float straight up in the air, descending without difficulty on the lawn after a flight.

Many fortunes have been spent upon the quest for such a machine as that now nearly ready for its trials, and the evolution of the craft in question is a romance of modern aviation. Serious experiments began when Signor Vittorio Isacco, an Italian engineer who in 1917 collaborated with M. Pescara, a world-famed authority on vertical flight, in the construction of as many as five helicopters. Three of these were built for the French Government. We are told that several of them raised their pilots into the air and flew, but two difficulties were encountered. One was in the equilibrium of the craft and the other was in the transmission of power from an engine to rotating wings. Signor Isacco persisted and last year the British Air Ministry purchased the plans of the machine about which so much interest now centres.

It will be recalled that a New Westminster inventor announced the completion recently of a helicopter of which he had great hopes. He already has applied for patent rights and the results of his further experiments will be awaited with interest. To British Columbia may yet come the honor of solving the intricate mysteries of vertical flight.

One's imagination might riot with a machine of this sort. If it shall be a success, it will remove the necessity of an open landing space, since the machine that can remain at rest in the air would be able to choose its alighting spot at will. This means that the city worker, thus equipped, one day will be able to travel from his home in the country to his office by air with as little difficulty as is involved in starting and stopping a motor car. When that day is about to dawn, however, architects will have the chance of their lives to evolve suitable "parking" spaces.

DOUBTLESS TRUE

"MANY an order has been obtained through a friendly chat while standing on the fourteenth tee before business has even been mentioned."

A businessman recently made this remark. We presume he speaks from experience; in that case it is not for us to challenge it. It no longer is considered bad business for the businessman to play golf, providing he does not neglect his interests. He not only keeps himself fit, mentally and physically alert, but he meets new people and establishes contacts of a profitable business nature which weeks of correspondence would not produce.

We in Victoria derive a good deal of pleasure, and no doubt a good deal of profit, from the friendly combats in which United States and Canadian players engage. We venture to suggest that there are more people in Seattle, those who golf and those who are friendly with golfers, who may always be depended upon to say a good word for Victoria than many imagine. Much of this friendly spirit has been produced by various forms of pastime in which the people of both cities indulge.

Whether business should be conducted or orders taken on the fourteenth tee, or left for discussion in that mythical hole of which most golf courses boast, we are not prepared to say. We have, however, a fairly shrewd idea of what might be said by others waiting on the fourteenth tee if too much time were taken up by a business conference.

There is material for reflection in the thought, none the less. Sport is a great leveler, particularly international sport. And it obviously confers many other besides physical benefits upon those who mingle in friendly combat in the open air.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Mr. Arthur Meighen has been telling an audience at Windsor that another war would mean disaster for all nations; that there would be no victory; and that every country would lose. Perhaps those who warn us of this truth at this stage of the world's progress will be believed. When Norman Angell wrote "The Great Illusion" before the last war he was almost regarded as a fit subject for mental treatment. Events have justified most of his contentions.

The Victoria Daily Times, April 4, 1904

Victoria and Vicinity—Weather Forecast—Light to fresh easterly to southerly winds, generally fair, with not much change in temperature.

In a heavy rain which continued all day in Tacoma the Alaskan Steamship Company's new steamer Jefferson was launched at 7 o'clock on Saturday evening in the presence of a large concourse of people from Victoria, Port Townsend, Seattle and the City of Destiny.

The new time-table issued by the C.P.R. Company, governing the sailing of their steamers during the present month, there are few changes mentioned in the various services given.

Easter services were held in all the city churches yesterday. The interiors of the various sacred edifices were beautifully decorated, and the services were most impressive in character. Special Easter music played an important part.

Hon. Richard McBride arrived last evening on the steamer Charnier from the Sound.

A THOUGHT

A continual dropping in a very rainy day and a contentious woman are alike.—Proverbs xxvii. 13. Bad temper is its own scourge.—Charles Buxton.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

FOREIGN TRADE

The Quebec Soleil

Before the war, from the point of view of imports, we were only known in a very few countries. To-day our products are distributed over the whole globe. Even in Asia the demand for Canadian goods is becoming greater every day. Japan and China are in a fair way to becoming our best customers.

RADIO AND PEACE

Premier Baldwin

There are two things to-day that I believe will help materially to peace. I came down one Sunday morning at Chequers, a few minutes before my breakfast was ready, and I went to the wireless set and tried all round Europe to see if anything was coming through at nine o'clock in the morning. By chance I struck some exquisite music in Berlin, and heard shortly the singing of a hymn. I thought immediately that when the day comes when nearly every cottage in this country can switch on to any station in Europe and hear the peoples of Europe at their music, their dancing, hymn-singing, and prayers, what a bond that will be throughout the world.

When the mass of the people realize that, in whatever country in Europe a man lives, he is a human being like himself, and a family and family life, a wireless set, with his services on Sunday, his dancing in the evening, and with his lectures, war presents a very different aspect, and I believe that wireless—ordinary, common or garden wireless—is going to be one of the greatest war bonds between the common people of all whole world, and it is the common people who in the long run will decide whether there will be war or not.

THE AIRPORT BY-LAW

The Vancouver Daily Province

By deciding to submit a by-law to purchase land for an airport, Vancouver City Council has taken a decided forward step and one which should have the effect of placing this city on a par with the other progressive cities of the continent. The airport is advancing steadily in importance and in usefulness. A railway a dozen years ago, it is almost a commonplace to-day, and before long there seems reason to believe, aeroplanes will be as numerous as motor cars are to-day. But motor cars have still the advantage over aircraft. They use the public streets, it is true, causing serious problems there. But they can take off from a private garage on the tiniest lot, and they can come to a stop anywhere without causing inconvenience or damage. Aeroplanes cannot yet do this. They must have large spaces from which to take off and on which to land in adverse winds. The aeroplanes which will ply from this city as headquarters, planes bound on fisheries or forestry or mining service, or in the passenger-carrying trade. For these planes, Vancouver requires a landing field, and the by-law, if submitted and passed at the earliest possible moment, will supply the airport not a day before it is required.

TAXATION

To the Editor—Mr. John Dean reminds me of the man who, by constantly peering through pin-holes, became unable to see through a ladder. In your issue of March 27, he asks me what I would do about taxation when the gives two examples property is not producing any revenue but showing a loss. I should wait for a fair and square statement of the facts (which Mr. Dean's examples are not) before I came to a decision. Mr. Dean, as usual, misses the vital principle in question. He gets two absolutely different kinds of property jumbled together. One kind has a way of constantly rising in value, while the other has a way of going up. In calculating the revenue production of a building you must allow for a sinking fund for repairs and renewal. Let a building be neglected for a few years and it becomes a ruin. Not so with the lot the building stands on. In any but a decaying community it constantly rises in value. So true is this that it has become a commonplace to speak of people doing business at a loss, yet making money. It is not therefore, the present revenue alone that people consider when making their calculations about land, they confidently count on its increasing value. These are the two kinds of property that people consider when making their calculations about land, they confidently count on its increasing value. These are the two kinds of property that people consider when making their calculations about land, they confidently count on its increasing value.

The profits that the speculator pockets do not grow on bushes nor are they extracted from the air, they are added to the burdens of the producing and consuming people; they have to be sweated for by the general public. High priced land brings high priced goods. Anyone capable of consecutive thought should not need to be told these things. As to the other unsupported assertions about the "acme of equity" of the English system, and his "single tax" inquiry, let the reader judge. ALEXANDER HAMILTON, Pender Island, B.C.

Sooke

The Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute will hold their monthly meeting on Friday, April 5, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Forest. C. Harrison will give a lecture, illustrated with lantern slides, at the Sooke Hall on Saturday at 8 p.m. Miss Lucas is spending her Easter vacation with her father. Murray Cluff is a visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Kitching. Dr. and Mrs. Felton and Miss Marjorie Felton have returned after an absence of one month. Neglected Kidneys are the cause of more than half the ills to which mankind is heir. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the Kidneys, making them strong and healthy. Sound Kidneys mean pure blood. Pure blood means good health. Mr. and Mrs. G. Gorlick of Oak Bay were Sooke visitors.

ARRIVING FRIDAY

HER EXCELLENCY THE VISCONTRESS WILLINGDON

PRETTY WEDDING AT SYNAGOGUE

Rabbi Jack Levy and Miss Bertha Bean Wed Last Night

The Jewish Synagogue was the scene yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock of a wedding of interest to many Victorians, and unique in the respect that it was the only wedding that has taken place in the synagogue during the last thirty-four years, when Miss Bertha Bean, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bean of 1204 Dallas Road, and Rabbi Jack Levy of Victoria, only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Levy of London, England, were united in marriage by Rabbi S. P. Wohlgenant of Vancouver, assisted by Rabbi S. A. Goldstein of Vancouver, uncle of the groom.

For the happy occasion, the synagogue was filled with friends of the contracting parties, and was decorated with greenery and Spring flowers in a color scheme of yellow and white. During the marriage service, which was read in Hebrew, followed by a translation in English, the bride and groom stood under a canopy.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautifully gowned in white satin and tulle, the long-waisted bodice being of white satin and the skirt of tulle, fashioned in three tiers, longer in the back than front. A filmy net veil was attached to her head in cap style and held in place by a semi-circle of orange blossoms with clusters of blooms at each side of the head. Her bouquet was composed of pale pink roses and carnations.

The maid of honor, Miss Ethel Bean, sister of the bride, wore a frock of peach-colored tulle, fashioned with tight bodice and bouffant skirt, and on her head a bandana of pearl-winkles. Her bouquet was of mauve sweet peas and ferns.

The bridesmaids, Miss Esther Kramer, also sister of the bride, wore a frock of peach-colored tulle, fashioned with the uneven hemline, and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas and maiden hair fern. Little Miss Elaine Kramer made a dainty flower girl and wore a frilly frock of peach organdie, and carried a basket filled with pink sweet peas. Mr. and Mrs. I. Hermann stood with the groom, who was also supported by his groomsmen Mr. Berne's brother of London, England, Mr. Harold Bean, brother of the bride, acted as usher. Mr. T. P. Myers presided at the organ.

Following the service at the synagogue, the bride and groom were groomed at the Amphyon Hall, Yates Street, where the wedding supper was served, followed by a dance. Rabbi and Mrs. Levy have left for the mainland where the honeymoon will be spent. Mrs. Levy traveled in a smart ensemble of blue and gray, with a blue hat and blue fox fur.

Rabbi Levy, who is the youngest Rabbi on the American continent, is a graduate of the London University, and came to Victoria in 1927 to minister to those of the Jewish faith here. Among the many out-of-town guests at the wedding were Rabbi and Mrs. S. P. Wohlgenant, Rabbi S. A. Goldstein and Miss Goldstein, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jaffe, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rome, Mr. Max Poplack, Mr. and Mrs. H. Sugarman, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rothstein, Mr. Harry Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. S. Charlow, Mr. and Mrs. I. Poplack, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. D. Poplack of Everett; Mr. H. Bean and Miss Bean of Sedro Woolley; Mr. and Mrs. J. Bean and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bean of Olympia; Mr. and Mrs. E. Schuman; Mr. and Mrs. J. Grief and Mr. M. Grief of Bellingham; Mr. and Mrs. I. Schuman, Mrs. Helen Schuman, Mr. S. Schiller, Mr. and Mrs. J. Salzman, Mr. Martin Cerni, Mr. and Mrs. J. Centennial W.M.S. Contribute $110.65 As Thankoffering

A very successful Easter thankoffering meeting in connection with the Women's Missionary Society of Centennial United Church was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. P. Westman, 612 David Street, with Mrs. S. Howard, the president, in the chair.

Mrs. James Hood, Presbyterian president, addressed the gathering on "Prayer, Its Power and Its Efficacy," quoting many instances in sacred and secular history to prove what marvellous things have been wrought through prayer. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of," as Tennyson said. Mrs. J. L. Miller, late missionary at Ahwahwah Indian School, gave an interesting account of the work being carried on there by the United Church of Canada. Mrs. Norman Baker sang "Effectively The Splendor of the Morn."

The thankoffering amounted to $110.65.

MASSÉ of Paris

Distinguished Authority on Beauty Culture urges his patrons to use this one treatment to keep the skin lovely

This celebrated authority on the technique of acquiring personal loveliness advises a simple but un-failing rule for complexion beauty

Emile Massé, skillful head of the establishment bearing his name, on the Rue Daunou, Paris. M. Massé makes a careful study of modern care of the skin. His word on such matters is authoritative.

"Efficient but gentle cleansing of the skin at home is an absolute requirement of success in our work. We have investigated many methods by which this may be done and have decided that the simplest method is by far the best of all. That is the consistent, thorough use of the soap which combines deep cleansing with the well-known cosmetic effects of palm and olive oils."

E. Massé
16 RUE DAUNOU, PARIS

AT 16 Rue Daunou, Paris, many of the world's most distinguished women are accustomed to consult E. Massé on problems of skin care. Massé gives much time and thought to home beauty methods, as well as to the treatments given in his artistic salon de beauté.

"Efficient but gentle cleansing of the skin at home is an absolute requirement of success in our work," says Massé. "Clients who follow our advice never use any soap except that which blends oils of palm and olives. They are the ones whose skin shows the greatest improvement as a result of the treatments we give in the salon."

Other authorities agree

All the leading figures in the Parisian world of beauty culture agree with M. Massé. Lina Cavalieri, Vincent, Mme. Valentin le Brun—these are just a few of the many French authorities who recommend this same treatment. And in Berlin, Vienna, London—in all the cosmopolitan centers of culture—one meets this same advice.

What palm and olive oils do

The need for thorough, but gentle, cleansing of the skin is universally recognized. Oil secretions, dust, dirt, make-up, clog the pores. Unless they are removed daily, they will harden into blackheads and pimples or cause sallowness and a dull, lifeless skin.

In Palmolive Soap beauty experts—in Canada and all over the world—find just the correct blending of those oils which are so beneficial to the skin. This soap, as Massé says, "combines deep cleansing with the well-known cosmetic effect of palm and olive oils."

Massé also prepares an astringent, Elixor Camphre and Creme Massé, specially for home use... but always he suggests, and his most famous colleagues agree upon, the following treatment, twice a day, to retain skin loveliness: first, a rich lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water, to be rubbed, with both hands, well into the skin. Two minutes of soap massage; a rinse, first with warm water, then with cold. A final ice water rinse as astringent. Dry skin usually needs some oily cream at least once a day. Oily skin requires an astringent lotion and the use of a day cream with drying effect.

In this 2-minute treatment millions of women find a solution to their problems of skin care. Palmolive is now the leading complexion soap not only in Canada but also in 48 other countries.

A priceless formula embodying the precious oils of palm and olive, famous since the days of Cleopatra for prolonging health and beauty.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

POTATOES DISGUISED

One mother says: "Little Marie positively would not eat potatoes so I finally decided to fix them up in a new way. I put mashed potatoes into a pretty little baking dish and covered them with bread crumbs and browned them. She was overjoyed. I put a new dish, all her own, and asked 'What is it, Mother?' 'Well,' I replied, 'You may name it yourself.' Marie tasted it, then ate every bit of it. 'It's fine, mother, and I think I will call it 'Pandy' because it is baked in a pan. So until she was several years older she ate 'Pandy' and never suspected that she was eating potatoes and by that time had so overcome her prejudice that she now eats them however they are cooked."

Your Baby and Mine

HEAD BUMPING AND TOSsing COMPARABLE TO THUMB SUCKING

Mrs. T. U. E. writes: "My two-year-old boy drives me almost frantic. When he goes to bed for his nap, or even in the middle of the night, he bumps his head from side to side on the pillow. I have punished him for it and he would cry and then when everything was quiet I would hear him doing it again. Why does he do this and what can I do to stop it?"

ANSWER

Head bumping, tossing the head from side to side, thumb sucking, ear pulling, all of these are early habits which give the child sensory satisfaction. They should be outgrown naturally and unless the child's attention is called to them forcibly by your "frantic" efforts to stop these habits, dropped as he drops other early baby habits. It is hard for an adult to understand how a child can get any pleasure out of hurting himself, but we just have to admit that he must find it pleasurable or he wouldn't continue it. All such habits are best treated by indifference (so that the child doesn't use them to torment the parent and get attention) and tactfully interesting him in other occupations of a higher order. Once his interest in new games and playmates and toys is established, he will stop these solitary efforts to amuse himself.

Mrs. F. W. writes: "Your letter left me in a state between blushing and tears. I can't help but feel tremendously gratified at your success and my small part in it."

I could have published the letter as you desired if you had only said some perfectly horrid thing about me, but it was just too nice. I shall have to keep it all myself. It helps so much to get such a letter and you must know how I appreciate it.

Mrs. G. R. B. writes:

"My little girl is three and one-half years old and has never been very healthy. We had her adenoids removed at thirteen months and now she is having a lot of trouble with her tonsils. Is she too young for their removal? She complains of her stomach hurting and yet when I prepare food, though she says she is hungry, she will not eat. What, do you think is her trouble?"

ANSWER
A great deal may be awry and it doesn't pay to guess. Take the child to the doctor and have a thorough examination. Remove the tonsils if they are really infected, and find out why the child's appetite is so erratic. Meals must be regular with no nibbles in between. You should try to prevent her feeling that you consider her appetite unusual. Children easily receive up to our expectations, you know.

Tod Morgan Making Attempt to Break Champions' "Jinx"

King of Junior Lightweights Will Meet Santiago Zorilla, Dusky Indian Glove Thrower, in Los Angeles Ring, Where Three Other Titleholders Have Lost Their Crowns; Seattle Youngster is Most Indulgent of Champions and is Slight Favorite; Champion Will Have Advantage in Height, Reach and Experience.

Los Angeles, April 4.—Tod Morgan, cool, slight Seattle Scotman, will try to succeed to-night where three other fistic champions failed. The junior lightweight titleholder will enter the Olympic Auditorium's humpen square here to-night in answer to the challenge of Santiago Zorilla, dusky glove thrower from the San Blas province of Panama. He hopes not only to thrust aside the title defly of the Indian youth, but to prove the fallacy of the "jinx" that has hounded champions here and by which he himself won his crown.

Since the passage of the ten-round boxing law in California, three champions have brought their diadems into Los Angeles rings, only to see them snatched away. Frankie Genaro, flyweight; Mike Balerno, junior lightweight; and Pinky Mitchell, junior welterweight, suffered that fate. By a coincidence Morgan was one of those winning a title here, and he will defend it to-night in the same ring in which he battered it from Balerno's scowling brow over three years ago.

MORGAN SLIGHT FAVORITE
Morgan held the favorite's end of the general betting odds, but the quoted figures did not favor him by any sort of a margin. The champ in most quarters was quoted at around 10 to 9, but many Zorilla backers went as far as to put up even money.

Morgan, whose willingness to risk his title has resulted in him being known as the most indulgent of champions, is confident that he will win over Zorilla.

The bushy-haired Panama jungle boy is credited with being a greatly improved fighter over the time he fought a draw with the champion in a title bout at San Francisco last year.

Morgan will have advantages in height, reach and experience over his brown-skinned opponent, but will give away four years in age. Zorilla at twenty-one years of age, has had but two years' experience, and is considered a cominger in the ring.

Local Light Heavyweight Is Picked to Beat Joe Lohman Saturday Night

With the Miller-Lohman battle two days away the local fighter reigns a 7-6 favorite to defeat the Toledo heavyweight. In their recent mix-up at Vallejo, Cal., Lohman was given the call after ten slashing rounds, but the sports editor of the Times-Herald was of the opinion that the Victoria leather-throater, to say the least, was worthy of a draw. On Saturday night Miller will be in their fighting hard to reverse this decision.

The four-round main-windup between Frankie Doyle of Port Angeles and Charlie Bradshaw, local fighter, promises to be an interesting affair. Bradshaw has been seen in action a number of times by local fans and has become quite popular through his willingness to mix, while Doyle, according to "Dusty" Miller, is a first-class fighter.

Wing Hay, the fighting Chinaman, will step up against a classy boxer when he does the ring with Larry Hanson of Seattle in a special four-round bout.

The curtain raiser will bring together a pair of heavy sluggers, Young McCoy and A. B. Jennings. McCoy, who was quite a popular figure in local amateur circles, making his debut in the professional ranks against the rugged Jennings.

Another good day of ticket sales was reported yesterday by the officials of the Central Boxing Club, who anticipate a sell-out before the doors open.

Seats For Hockey Game In Vancouver Can Be Reserved

Victoria hockey fans who desire to witness the opening game between the Vancouver Lions and the Montreal Canadiens in the Mainland City Friday night can be sure of getting their seats by telephoning their reservations to George Strath's store, Douglas Street. A section of seats has been set aside for Victoria fans.

Winnipeg Toilers Hang Up Big Lead In Hoop Play-offs

Winnipeg, April 4.—A 22-point lead was mounted up here last night by the Winnipeg Toilers, Manitoba champions, in the first game of their two-game series with Fort William, Cubs, Thunder Bay representatives, in the Canadian Basketball Association play-downs. The Toilers, Canadian titleholders in 1927, overwhelmed the Lake head team by a 38-16 score, and practically made certain of taking the series, which concludes here to-night. At half-time the Winnipeggers led by 22 to 2, but appeared to take their ease in the last half.

Awarded Trophy

GEORGE HAINSWORTH
Montreal, April 4.—George Hainsworth, sterling custodian of the Canadiens Hockey Club nets, has been awarded the Georges Vézina Memorial trophy for the third season. This trophy is awarded each year to the National League goalkeeper whose performance through the season just closed entitles him to distinction.

Hainsworth set up some remarkable records, among them one of twenty shutouts for this winter, another of sixteen straight games without a loss, and a record of five straight games with only one loss.

Fine Totals Are Chalked Up At Bowling Congress

Chicago, April 4.—Several prize winning totals were registered at the American Bowling Congress yesterday, but only two men wedged their way among the "Big Ten" leaders.

Both changes came in the All-events. H. Guarnieri of Ashtabula, Ohio, topped 1940 pins to land in seventh place in the five man event, while Walter of Chicago upset 1901 to take tenth place.

Otto Stein Jr. of St. Louis, still sets the pace in the All-events with his 1,974 mark.

Jeff Davis and Eddie Krems of Chicago still lead in the singles with 723 each, while W. Klees and Pete Butler, Chicago, head the doubles list with their 1,553. In the five man event, the Hub Recreationists of John, Ill., still lead the field with 9,093 pins.

CANADIENS ARE WILLING TO PUT TITLE AT STAKE

Vancouver, April 4.—Radiating class and physical fitness in every face in the party, Les Canadiens stepped off the C.P.R. train this morning and declined offers to ride to their hotel.

"Well walk," they chorused. "Lead the way; boy, but it feels good to get off the train."

Boile Moreau, in charge of the party, snapped his jaw shut when informed that his club would be asked to put their Canadian title at stake against the Lions in an East-West championship series.

"Sure," he said, "that's all right with us; we'll simply fight harder."

BAYS LOSE TO TARS IN POOR MATCH

Wednesday Soccer League Leaders Beaten 5-0 By Weakened Team

Cosier Scores Four Goals; Saanich United-Rennies Game Postponed

Playing with only ten men the Navy midweek soccer team scored a 5-0 victory over the league-leading Hudson Bays at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday afternoon. The game between Saanich United and Rennie and Taylors was postponed.

Four goals by Cosier played a big part in the sailor's win. Weak and inaccurate shots by the Bays forwards prevented any scoring for their side. For the first half of the opening period, play remained about even with neither squad getting any really dangerous shots at the rival goalies.

COSIER SCORES
When the game was well advanced the sailors forced play into the Bays' end. Clarke attempted to clear out placed the ball in front of his own goal. From a scrimmage Cosier put his foot to the leather driving it into the net for the Navy's first counter.

The Bays retaliated with a forward rush from Whyley, but Bob Addie skied over the bar after he had broken through for a clear shot. Fish got in a good shot, but Barker saved by throwing the ball behind his own line. Fish netted the ball from a mix-up in front of the goal after the corner, but the score was not allowed since "one of the Bays had handled the ball."

Barker cleared with a good kick, but the Bays returned on the offensive. Atkinson, outside left for the Bays, broke through, but the ball over the bar with no one in front of him.

In the second half the Bays sustained the attack they had commenced in the first, but did not find the net with their shots.

GOOD CORNER KICK
Addie again took the ball down the wing and was given a corner when Plummer kicked it out. Addie placed the ball in the goal mouth from his kick, but Whyley saved.

Cosier broke away and carried the ball to the Bays' end. He passed to Putnam, who put in a hard drive on Whyley. The storeman's save saved but lost control of the ball. Robinson running in to score.

With the score 2-0 against them the Bays doubled their efforts on the sailors' citadel, but could not score.

Fish missed a hard shot and the Navy returned to the Bays' end from the goal kick. Robinson shot, but Whyley saved. Cosier went in and took the ball on the rebound and sagged the storeman's net for the Navy's third tally.

A few minutes later Cosier got his head to a high ball in front of the Bays' net and headed it in.

GETS ANOTHER
Shortly after the Navy star left-winger again secured the ball. After carrying it down the sideline, he dribbled to centre, fooled Gardiner, and sent the ball into the net on a shot which Whyley had no chance to save.

For the remainder of the game the storeman attacked the Navy goal but could not score.

Whyley, in the Bays' net tried hard to stop the barrage of shots that came in on him during the game, but did not receive enough support from his backs. Perry Shrimpton was playing centre forward for the Bays.

The teams lined up as follows:
Navy—Barker, A. Plummer, A. Whyte, C. Plummer, C. Whyte, Putnam, Coles, Robinson, Roberts and Cosier.
Hudson's Bay—Willoughby, Clarke, Gardiner, Oakman, Woodley, Kerchin, Addie, Fish, Shrimpton, Cull and Atkinson.

Crescents, Fidelis and Keating Win Way Into Finals of Knockout League

"Y" Put Up Great Fight Against Suburbanites; Crescents to Play College

Crescents, Fidelis and Keating basketball teams returned victors in the semi-final rounds of the City League knockout competitions last night, at the Y.M.C.A.

The Crescents defeated Poreux, 37-23 in the first game of the evening and won the right to meet Victoria College in the final for the Bob Whyte Shield. This game was fast throughout and produced some fair basketball.

The Crescents gained a big lead early in the game on baskets by Lloyd Jones and Norm McConnell. At half time the youngsters held a 22-6 lead and settled back to protect this lead.

In the second half Poreux outscored opponents 17-15. This half produced the best basketball of the game. Lloyd Jones with twenty points played a stellar game for the winners while Bruce Macmurchie was the pick of the losers. Tommy Forbes refereed.

A FINE RECORD
During the regular season Vancouver played thirty-six games, of which they won twenty-five, lost eight and drew three. They thus finished with fifty-three points in the standing, seventeen points ahead of Seattle, the second-place team. The Lions were beaten on their own ice only twice and both times by Victoria Cubs, who finished at the bottom of the league. One of these losses was the first game of the season. Neither Seattle nor Portland could score a victory in Vancouver.

Vancouver registered eleven shut-outs during the regular season. Their longest winning streak was eight games. Their scoring average tallied eighty-seven goals, against fifty-seven scored against them.

FOURTEEN MEETING
An executive meeting of the directors of the Burnside Lawn Bowling Club will be held to-morrow night at 8 o'clock at Hampton Hall.

Half and wiped out the one-point deficit and set up a fairly safe lead. Relying on their defensive skill the suburbanites held the "Y" boys till the final whistle. Tommy Forbes refereed.

The teams were:
Keating—Kersey (4), Bates, Bagley, Mitchell (9), Sutton (9), Atkinson and Styan.
Y.M.C.A. Ingleson (6), Martin (2), fourtiester (4), Barbour, Bradshaw, Acres (7), and Ruttan.

1,750,000 Fans Attended N.H.L. Games Last Season

LIONS SHOULD HOLD THEIR OWN
P.C.H.L. Champions Expected to Give Canadiens Stiff Fight in Series

Vancouver, April 4.—Frank Patrick's Vancouver Lions, whose 4-2 victory over Seattle Tuesday night gave them the championship of the Pacific Coast Hockey League in three straight games of the play-off series, displayed superiority over the rest of their league throughout the season which should make them worthy opponents to the National Hockey League teams which they will meet here shortly. A three-game series, starting Friday, against the Canadiens of Montreal is announced to be for the professional hockey championship of Canada.

ALBIE DAVIES BEATS THOMAS
Clever Local Fighter Springs Surprise By Win Over Bellingham Boy

Bellingham, April 4.—Substituting for Hector McDonald, Vancouver boxer, Albie Davies, clever Victoria featherweight, was given the call over Eddie Thomas in a six-round main event here last night. The local boy gained an early lead, but could not stave off the determined attacks and clever boxing tactics of the victor, whose great finish earned him the verdict.

BIG SURPRISE
The defeat of Thomas, at the hands of Davies, was one of the biggest surprises that local fight fans have had to sit back and take for granted. Thomas has a K.O. over Tommy Burgess, former Vancouver battler, to his credit, and has met and defeated some of the best boys in his class on the Pacific Coast.

In the six-round semi-final, Del-wolf, heavyweight, knocked out Miles Dodge, Tacoma, in the second round. Nelson, Ferguson, Vancouver, and Benny Wendell, Bellingham welter, and Jimmy Britt, Bellingham, lightweights, drew in six-round affairs.

Now Eats and Sleeps Well Thanks to TANLAC

"Heartburn, palpitation, headaches and nervousness almost set me wild," states Mr. Henry Sholer, 175 Edinburgh St., Peterboro, Ont. "Often I was so weak and miserable that I had to stop work before quitting time. But good old Tanlac came to my rescue and now I have not a complaint in the world. Tanlac seemed to build me up all over again—and hearty eating, steady nerves and sound sleep have made me as strong as an ox. I would not swap Tanlac for all other medicines put together."

WAITS 15 YEARS TO EAT FRIED ONIONS

"After fifteen years I eat anything I want—even fried onions. Adierka ended gas and sourness, and I enjoy life now."—Mrs. L. Branton.

Just ONE spoonful Adierka relieves gas and that bloated feeling so that you can eat and sleep well. Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes old waste matter you never thought was there. No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adierka will surprise you. David Spencer Limited, Drugs. (Adv.)

Great Britain. The game was keenly contested.

Out of seven games in the fourth round, five were drawn and two adjourned. The score last night showed the foreigners leading with seventeen victories against nine for Great Britain. Capablanca has 3½ games to his credit, while Sir George Thomas and Yates of the British team have two victories each.

With the Bowlers

The Vancouver Star is now the only bowling team which can defeat The Colonist in the British Columbia newspaper bowling champion series.

Last night The Vancouver Province and Vancouver Sun wrote the results of their games in Vancouver. The Province amassed a total of 2,311 while The Sun scored 2,712.

The Colonist's mark is 3,045.

Give freely

When your Children Cry for It

Mothers, who take one simple precaution, are seldom worried. With a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria in the house they can do what their doctor would tell them to do, when baby is fretful, feverish, colicky, constipated or stuffed up with cold. It is a pleasant, pure vegetable, pleasant-tasting preparation. It comforts Baby and soothes him to sleep in a jiffy. It's perfectly safe for the youngest infant. Use it freely—and as often as needed, specialists advise. A more liberal dose is all it takes to comfort and relieve distressed children when feverishness, bad breath, no appetite, colds, etc., show they need a good purging. The mark of genuine Castoria is the Fletcher signature on the wrapper. Look for it to avoid imitations.

FIDELIS TO SEEK TITLE

Local Ladies' Basketball Team Will Play Kamloops in B.C. Finals

Fidelis ladies, Victoria's last remaining hope in the B.C. open basketball championships, will journey to Kamloops Friday afternoon where they play the final game in the B.C. Senior "B" ladies' series. The local girls went to Vancouver last Friday and eliminated Woodward's, Vancouver's best Senior "B" ladies' team, and they hope to repeat this victory in Kamloops Saturday night.

The local champs have been practicing hard and are in the best of condition. Fidelis have defeated all teams in their division, and so far this season have not tasted defeat. This is a great record, and they are making the trip to Kamloops determined to bring to Victoria its first B.C. championship this year.

Eight players, a coach and manager will make the trip to the interior. This will give "Dad" Macmurechie, coach, plenty of material to choose from, and a chance to keep his team going at a fast pace throughout the crucial encounter. Those making the trip are: J. Macmurechie, coach; Bob Whyte, manager; B. Macmurechie, Captain; I. Crawford, E. Campbell, D. Bailey, I. Poulton, I. Philbrook, K. Freeman and L. Macmurechie.

MEANING OF GOOD FRIDAY

To the Sports Editor:—Allow me a word to my fellow-sports, especially their leaders, as to the meaning and use of Good Friday. This will be a good time, the Easter week-end being just past and a whole year ahead, in which to weigh the issue I raise before Easter comes again.

You may think it strange that I speak of you as "fellow-sports," since none of you see me participate in any public games. Advanced age is the reason. But I read the daily reports in the Times of much in athletic lines, and until recently had a hobby in baseball, tennis and bowling, and still greatly enjoy seeing a good game as well as basketball and some other popular games.

My worry is the use you make of Good Friday. I may say, frankly, that I would not favor either basketball or racing on Sundays, though they are certainly meant to be bright, happy days. But Good Friday is more sacred than Sunday. And a day for deep and pensive sorrow for the sin in us which "nailed Him to the tree," and for quiet and profound meditation, with determined purpose to live worthily of the Christ whose life is thus shown as so infinitely strong and tender. Good Friday is not really meant to be a glad day, is it? Even if you cannot fully appreciate this, please think sympathetically of those who do. We have many glad holidays: Christmas, Dominion Day, etc., and Easter Monday is one of them, quite appropriate for all kinds of cheer and jollification. Why not leave your athletic competitions for it—only three days later—so that we old fogies could join in freely, or at least look on if we wished?

In the kindest way, and not at all in the spirit of a "bully," I lay this matter before you, especially any of you connected with church athletics, who may be liable, surely thoughtless, to be too much influenced by the growing practice of Good Friday sports. All of it perhaps for "lack of thought—rather than lack of heart."

The church service which was sponsored on Good Friday by the Ministerial Association was fine and well attended, with an encouraging sprinkling of young people as I am confident the other city services were. But I couldn't help wondering how certain lads in a foot-race felt as they swept past Centennial Church, through the crowd just then gathering for the service. Let everybody have at least a "sporting chance" to attend.

WM. ELLIOTT.

COAST LEAGUE BALL RESULTS

Sacramento, April 4.—Sacramento turned the tables on the Portland Beavers here yesterday, combining good pitching with hard hitting for a one-sided 10 to 3 victory. With Earl Kunz mowing down the Beavers, his teammates pasted the offerings of four Beaver hurlers and took advantage of their generosity. Sixteen bases on balls were issued by the Portland flingers, while Kunz gave four.

Portland..... 3 5 0
Sacramento..... 10 10 1
Batteries: Mahaffey, Powers, Beck, Volkmann, Shanklin and Rego; Kunz and Severid.

Los Angeles, April 4.—Mickey Heath's snatching single in the ninth inning, when the score was tied and the bases full gave Hollywood a 6-5 win over Los Angeles in an exciting game here yesterday that served to even up the rivalry between the two local clubs. Heath's blow brought in Mike Maloney with the deciding run in the ninth inning.

Los Angeles..... 5 11 2
Hollywood..... 6 9 2
Batteries: Pitts, Peters, Weatherberry and Sandberg; Pinney, Johns and Beeler.

Other games postponed—rain.

Jimmy Eans And Redpath to Play With Seattle Esks

Seattle, April 4.—For Friday night's exhibition game here between the Seattle Eskimos and the New York Americans, the local sextette will be strengthened by the inclusion of Oliver Redpath and Jimmy Eans, of the Victoria Cubs. Eans, a forward, was recently voted the most valuable player on the Island team, and should fit in nicely along with Cec Browne for the pivot position. Redpath, a good defensive player, is just about the league's best scoring defender. This pair should add a great deal of strength to the Esks' line-up.

Joe Lohman Here For Fight; Will Workout To-night

Joe Lohman, Toledo light heavy-weight, who will meet "Dusty" Miller, local fighter, in a ten-round bout at the Tillamook gymnasium on Saturday night, arrived in town this morning. He looks in the pink of condition. Lohman will workout to-night at the Tillamook gymnasium.

HORSE RACING

Bowie, April 4.—Results of horse racing here yesterday follow:

Second race—Six furlongs: 1. Ben Marshall, 13.40, 13.60, 13.40; 2. Coors, 13.90, 13.30; 3. Santoro, 17.10. Time, 1:12 1-5.

Third race—Six furlongs: 1. Supercede, 17.90, 14.00, 13.10; 2. Watkinson, 16.40, 14.90; 3. Red Spider, 15.30. Time, 1:13 2-5.

Fourth race—Five and one-half furlongs: 1. Polly, 14.30, 13.10, 12.50; 2. Cloudy, 13.70, 12.80; 3. War Eagle, 13.90. Time, 1:06.

Fifth race—Seven furlongs: 1. War Hawk, 13.50, 13.40, 13.30; 2. Buddy Basil, 13.30, 12.40; 3. Let Alone, 12.80. Time, 1:17 3-5.

Sixth race—Five and one-half furlongs: 1. Vimont, 14.90, 12.90, 12.30; 2. Wrench, 12.80, 12.40; 3. Sandy Ford, 12.70. Time, 1:18 2-5.

Seventh race—Five and one-half furlongs: 1. Inland, 14.70, 12.90, 12.10; 2. Fire Chief, 12.50; 3. Pat Calhoun, 14.50.

Semi-finals Are Reached in North And South Tourney

Pinehurst, N.C., April 4.—Two Eastern, one Midwestern and one Southern girl last night remained in the running for the North and South women's championship.

The semi-final to-day pits Miss Glenna Collett of Providence, R.I., against Miss Marion Turpie of New Orleans, while Miss Virginia Van Wye of Chicago and Miss Edith Quier of Reading, Pa., are the survivors in the other bracket. This quartette of feminine sharpshooters marched through the quarter-finals yesterday, and will battle it out among themselves for the right to enter the final on Friday.

Eddie Shore Is After More Pay

Boston, April 4.—Eddie Shore, star defence player of the Boston Bruins, world's professional hockey champions, has refused to sign a contract for next season unless he receives a substantial increase in salary. It became known yesterday that he had demanded $17,500 for his services. The terms offered him by the Bruins management were not made public.

"This fella says no one seems to understand him—he should be glad of it."

BROTHERHOOD NAMES GROUPS

Victoria West Brotherhood Hears C. L. Harrison on "Ocean Highway"

The presentation of reports and the choice of standing committees for the year featured the regular monthly meeting of the Victoria West Brotherhood, held last night. The reports showed much progress made in the year closing and a satisfactory balance in the financial statement.

In the selection of standing committees the following were chosen: Parks and school, F. Adams, N. Hill, A. P. Cody-Johnson, C. Rose and J. Mercer; social, Mesdames Dodd and May and Messrs. Hill, Rose and A. Monteth; sports, A. N. Bishop, D. Campbell, A. Hooper and C. H. Vesey; streets, A. Buchanan, W. Crossman, F. Hinde, W. Minty and Shakespere.

The reports presented showed close attention paid to neighborhood problems, including the suggested bowling green and children's pool for Victoria West Park; the question of water supply for Victoria West, streets and sidewalks.

At the close of the business session the Brotherhood was entertained with an illustrated lantern lecture by C. L. Harrison on the "Ocean Highway." Mr. Harrison was pressed to repeat his appearance, taking as his subject for the next occasion, "The Forbidden Plateau." He was thanked for his instructive address on the Ocean Highway.

Belanger Refuses Bout With Pladner

Toronto, April 4.—An offer to Albert "Frenchy" Belanger, Canadian fly-weight champion, for a bout with Emile Pladner, European champion, in Paris on June 1, was refused yesterday by Dave Garrity, Belanger's manager, according to a statement made by the manager here. The offer was received by cable and was made by Jeff Dickson, Paris promoter, who staged the Pladner-Garrity bout last winter. Garrity said the offer was fair enough, but declared the Shamrock Athletic Club of Toronto would offer Pladner more money to meet the Canadian champion here.

Twenty-fifth International
Typewriting Contest Opens
At Toronto Sept. 28

Toronto, Canada, is the place and September 28 is the date of this year's international typewriting contest at which keyboard speedsters from every quarter of the globe vie annually for world typing honors. It was announced here to-day.

That the 1929 touch-system sweepstakes are to be the first staged outside the United States in twenty-five years constitutes a compliment to the two-comely Canadian lasses who won world titles at the twenty-third international contest last September in Sacramento, Calif.

They are Irma Wright of Toronto, who outsped the fastest non-professionals the United States could produce, in capturing the international amateur title, and Wilma McBride of Calgary, Alberta, who won the world's school girls' crown against champions of the various provinces of Canada and states of the union.

Albert Tangora, world's champion, George L. Hensfield, whose crown he lifted at Sacramento, and Anna Sifer of Jacksonville, Fla., United States school women champion, are among the seventy-five select of typing speedsters whom Toronto will see in action at historic Massey Hall.

Tangora won the open title at 132
net words a minute for an hour; Miss Wright attained the amateur sceptre and the cup donated by Governor C.
C. Young of California, by tapping out 116 net words a minute for a half-hour; Miss McBride annexed the world's school title at 87 words a minute for a quarter-hour, and Miss Sifer achieved the United States school title and the coveted Governor Alfred E. Smith trophy at 82 net words a minute for a quarter-hour.

This year, the Young and Smith trophies and the thousand-dollar prize plaque for the open contest will be among the numerous prizes open to competition. School contests are already under way in many cities to choose the champions who are to compete for the international novice title at Toronto in the Fall.

The speed contest in Victoria will be held on Saturday next.

Four Boys Lose Lives By Drowning

Halifax, April 4.—Four young boys lost their lives by drowning in two accidents in this section of Nova Scotia yesterday. Another five years old was saved only when his mother, Mrs. Joseph Keating, rushed into freezing water and dragged him out.
The bodies of her other son, aged four,
and a nephew two years older, were taken from Chocolate Lake. The three boys were playing on the ice of the lake when they broke through.

Two fifteen-year-old boys, Delbert
Goodwin and Radwin Nickerson of Lower Clark's Harbor, were drowned when their small boat capsized. It is believed the boat turned over as the boys were about to overhaul a lobster trap.

Cambridge, Mass., April 4.—Vernon Eglin Way of Edmonton, Alberta, has been awarded the Charles Eliot Norton Fellowship in Greek studies for 1929-30. It is administered by Harvard University. Way is a student at the Harvard Graduate School of Arts and Sciences. The fellowship is for a year's study at the United States School of Classical Studies at Athens.

LOCAL WOMAN
HEADS SOCIETY

Miss J. E. Harvey Named
President of Dominion Goat
Breeders' Organization

Officers elected at the twelfth annual general meeting of the Canadian Goat Society held here recently, were as follows: President, Miss J. E. Harvey, Victoria, B.C.; vice-president, H.
G. Morson, Burnaby, B.C.; secretary,
George Palmer, Department of Agriculture, Victoria, B.C.; director,
C. W. Newbury and J. E. Richards, Victoria, B.C.; S. G. Freeborn, Calgary, Alta.; George Williams, Oakville, and
A. E. Calvert, Toronto, Ont.

George Williams and A. E. Calvert were appointed as representatives to the Canadian National Live Stock Records' Board, and Mr. Williams was appointed representative to the Canadian National Exhibition.

The president's address indicated steady progress and increasing interest in milk goats throughout the country.
Sales from British Columbia to the prairie provinces had been good, and the increase in business was looked for.
Good work had been done in Ontario
by the Milk Goat Breeders' Association there, and the shipment to Ontario of goats by Tyler's Dairy, Victoria, and three high-class Saanichs by G. and A. Williams, Oakville, Ont., and other shipments had given an impetus to the industry in the East and would result in the improvement of stock.

It had been amply proved that the solder climate on the prairies and in the East was not a drawback to the keeping of goats so long as they were properly housed, and as this fact was better realized, goats will be kept in increasing numbers, the report added.

Registration during 1928 showed a slight decrease except in Ontario, and this could probably be explained by the increasing number of high-class stock available.

The only importation from Great Britain during the year was one Nubian buck by H. G. Morson, Burnaby, B.C., but this animal died en route.

Passing Mourned

THE LATE RODERICK DUNCAN MACCRIMMON

With mournful lament, members of the Canadian Scottish Junior Pipe Band yesterday paid final tribute to their late fellow member, Duncan
Roderick MacCrimmon, familiarly known to them as "Roddy." After playing at Sands Funeral Parlors the band followed the cortege and played their dirges at the interment in Ross Bay Cemetery.

The late Roderick MacCrimmon, who was born in Lancaster, Glenarry County, Ontario, on June 23, 1912 was taking his junior matriculation at Victoria High School, where he had a large circle of friends among the teachers and pupils. Throughout the school he was known for his cheerful nature. He was a member of the C.S.S. of Oak Bay United Church and belonged to the Junior Pipe Band.
The latter institution was one of the greatest interests of his life. As a member of it he was known to be a young piper and pipe-major as a loyal supporter of the organization, ready to do his part in a quiet manner.

Rev. W. A. Guy conducted the service. Beautiful flowers covered the casket. The hymns sung were "There Is a Happy Land" and "Shall We Gather at the River." Mr. Frank Living sang "In the Garden." The pallbearers were John O'Brien Jr.,
Donald Bradwood, J. Lillie, Chris Miller, Harry Mitchell and J. Sanders, all members of the Junior Group of the Oak Bay United Church.

When certain rivers in South Africa dry up in the summer, a curious kind of fish, called mudfish, make themselves little nests in the mud and wait there until the river is full of water again.

ISLAND PLANT
INDUSTRY TO SHOW GROWTH

Spring Flower Show Will Demonstrate Progress of Horticulture Here

Vancouver Island's remarkable progress in recent years as a commercial horticultural centre will be indicated in striking fashion at the Vancouver Island Horticultural Society's annual Spring Show to be held at the Willows fair buildings on April 26 and 27. This exhibition has been assured the support of most of the larger plant nurseries of the Island and thus will include exhibits of many new plants imported here in recent years, a feature which will prove fascinating to all garden lovers.

Blessed with a peculiarly suitable climate and soil, Vancouver Island is rapidly becoming the commercial plant centre of Western Canada, and its horticultural products are shipped all over the Dominion. Progress along these lines is not generally realized, but the commercial exhibits at the Spring
Show will indicate its extent.

In recent years, Bulbs, Spring-flowering perennials, shrubs and Alpine plants, which are now being produced here in large commercial quantities, will feature the many commercial exhibits which have been arranged for.
While the amateur exhibits will provide the competitive element among gardeners, the large commercial displays will prove of interest to amateurs in showing many plants recently brought to this country and not grown in the average garden.

AUGER APPEAL

IS TO BE HEARD

Ottawa, April 4.—Complaining against the charge Mr. Justice Wright delivered to the jury at the conclusion of the trial of Louis M. Auger, an appeal will be filed by Raoul Stedier, Auger's counsel, here yesterday afternoon.
In the appeal it is argued the judge did not sum up the evidence and analyze it in a manner to assure the jury's proper appreciation of it. Auger, formerly member of the House of Commons for Prescott, Ont., recently was found guilty of a serious offence against a young woman in Ottawa and sentenced to nine years' imprisonment.

SECRETARY DIES

Fredericton, N.B., April 4.—Robert Smith Barker, official secretary to Lieutenant-Governor Hugh H. McLean, died here yesterday of pneumonia, complicated by heart trouble. A native of Fredericton, he was sixty-eight years old. He had been private or official secretary to eight Lieutenant-Governors.

NEWS IN BRIEF

R. D. Gregg has been promoted from junior forester at the head office of the Forest Branch of the Lands Department here to be assistant district forester in the Cariboo district.

Mary Graham was fined $5 in the Provincial Police Court yesterday afternoon for driving an automobile without first obtaining a driver's license.

Eric A. Fox was fined $30 in Provincial Police Court yesterday afternoon when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile to the common danger.

The Ward Four Sanction Ratepayers' Association last night held a well-attended meeting at Marigold Hall. Road improvement and the proposed new high school were discussed.

Registration of voters in Ward Seven Sanction, for the provincial vote, is being conducted at Bates's Grocery Store, Davida Street, and at 3073 Alameda Street. The list will close at 6 o'clock on Saturday evening.

F. M. Black, chairman of the Interior Committee of the Legislature, has sent out to fruit-growers an outline of the amendments to that statute passed by the Legislature recently.

P. Liesching, personally representing William Clark, High Commissioner for Great Britain in Canada, at the conference on education, reached the city yesterday from Ottawa and is registered at the Empress Hotel.

A charge of supplying liquor to a minor against Clifford Dawley and Donald Shaver was withdrawn from police court this morning owing to lack of prosecution evidence to prove the age of the person in the case.

New Justices of the peace appointed by the Government are: Robert W. Minto, of Simon Sound; George Porteous, of Queen Bay; Alexander G. Strudwick, of Kitchener; B.C. Albert Berry, of Vernon; George F. Ransom, of Merritt; and Charles B. Scheiber, of Sooke. The appointment of William D. Brown, of Saanich, as justice of the peace has been rescinded.

J. C. Stobart, head of the British Broadcasting Corporation, who is here for the education conference, will speak before the City Temple congregation at Sunday evening. As this will be Mr. Stobart's only appearance in Victoria, he will be accompanied by an invitation to delegates and holders of conference tickets to attend the service.

At the close of the hearing of Jennings vs. Berman in County Court yesterday, judgment was reserved. The plaintiff, Stella Jennings, sued for $284 and costs for alleged damage to premises rented by the defendant, Dr. D. Berman. H. A. Beckwith appeared for the plaintiff, and F. L. Shaver for the defendant. Many witnesses were called in a five-day hearing.

A dance will be held under the auspices of the Public Schools Lawn Tennis Club on Friday from 9 to 1 p.m. at the Amphion Hall, Yates Street. There will be a three-piece orchestra and refreshments will be served. The dance will be open to members of the British Public Schools Club and their friends. Tickets can be secured from any of the committee or from the secretary, phones 7079 and 1922.

A very enjoyable badminton evening was spent at the J.B.A.A. Club at the George on Wednesday evening, after which a three-piece orchestra and refreshments were served by Mrs. Poyntz, Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Monckton. The following players were present: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Erikson, Mr. and Mrs. Styles, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Blake, Dr. and Mrs. Poyntz, Pat Mulcahy, A. Poutarces, Mrs. Poutarces, Mr. and Mrs. Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beckwith.

Concert numbers by the choir ladies, chorus, male chorus and quartette, will form the programme at the annual concert of the Oak Bay United Church choir to-morrow evening. By following artists will assist: Mrs. Bertram Mayell and Mrs. C. E. McNeill, sopranos; Mrs. Gladys Stark, contralto; G. H. Llewellyn, tenor; A. N. Baker, bass; and a string quartet, and an instrumental ensemble of ten violins under E. Semple.

Hon. F. P. Hurdin, Minister of Lands, will be acting minister of railways during the absence of Premier Tomin on a holiday. It is announced at the Parliament Buildings.

RADIO DIRECTOR ARRIVES IN CITY

J. C. STOBART, M.A.

Education Director of the British Broadcasting Corporation and one of the outstanding delegates to the Conference on Education, arrived in the city this afternoon from London.

Mr. Stobart has always been keenly interested in education, and he readily accepted the invitation of the National Council to come to Victoria.

ASH CAN COVER AND BALL START NEGOTIATIONS

A brightly-painted child's ball and an "ash can cover" played prominent parts in the hearing of an assault case before Magistrate George Jay in City Police Court this morning.

It seems, according to the evidence, that the ball, belonging to children of H. P. Mitchell, 620 Dunedin Street, had been kicked into the garden of Mrs. M. C. Matheson, 619 Dunedin Street. When Mr. Mitchell was refused return of the ball, he took the ash can cover of the plaintiff, with the intention of "opening negotiations in a neighborly manner."

Mr. Mitchell was charged with assaulting Mrs. Matheson during his attempt to regain the ball. The case was adjourned to-day to give the accused an opportunity to bring witnesses to the stand. Mr. Harrison, who had been playing with the ball on March 31, the day in question.

SIR A. STRONG VISITOR HERE

Sir Archibald Strong, professor of English at the University of Adelaide, South Australia, and a delegate to the Conference on Education, reached Victoria this morning and is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, 619 Dunedin Avenue. Sir Archibald has been associated with the Adelaide University as professor of English since 1922.

Son of the late Herbert Augustus Strong, professor of classics at the University of Melbourne, he was educated at Sedburgh School, Liverpool, University, Magdalen College, Oxford and the Middle Temple.

Witness No. 12 was interested in the entertainment.

In answer to questions by the city prosecutor, Harrison admitted he had talked with the complainant in regard to the drink which he alleged the latter offered him. Furthermore, there had been some talk about a piece of paper which Dunnett had on a piece of paper.

Rolling had also asked them to give a fancy to them, and they had written false names down in his book, said witness.

DID NOT WANT HIM

"We did not know him and we did not want him coming to see us," he explained.

Mr. Tait moved for dismissal of the case, declaring there was not one jot of evidence connected to the two accused with the case.

Mr. Harrison suggested there was an element of time in the matter which must be considered. The two had left the place about the same time as Rolling and would have had time to commit the offence before arriving at the place where the offence was committed, he testified. Moreover, Harrison's statement to Mr. De Gruchy that he was going home might indicate a guilty mind.

Magistrate Jay said he would consider the evidence and give judgment to-morrow.

BOYS EXPRESS APPRECIATION

Thirty Members of Rotary Group in Y.M.C.A. Thank Benefactors at Luncheon

Thirty members of the All-rounders, the Y.M.C.A. boys group, sponsored by the Rotary Club, thanked their benefactors at a luncheon held in appreciation of the work being done by them by the club at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Empress Hotel to-day.

Shore speaker, Mr. E. B. Rutledge, president of the All-round and John Newbrough, vice president, assured the Rotarians that the youngsters were deriving great benefit from the training in the Y.M.C.A. and thanked the club for securing them memberships.

While speaking John Newbrough stated that he hoped the Rotarians would attend meetings of the boys' organization in order to see just what progress was being made by them.

DEVELOPING GOOD CITIZENS

Lorne Procter, leader of the group, assured the gathering that any interest which the Rotarians might take in the boys would be repaid by making the youngsters into good citizens.

From the viewpoint of the Boys' Work Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., Vivian Shoemaker stated that the boys were one of the most progressive groups in the association. The Rotarians' ideal of developing the boys in an all-round manner was working out excellently in practice, he added. At the Y.M.C.A. they were attempting to develop the All-rounders' personalities and characters and, as far as he could see, the boys were progressing very favorably.

VALUABLE INVESTMENT

Chairman of the boys' work committee of the Rotary Club introduced the boys by name. In his opening remarks he stated that the purpose of the luncheon was twofold. In the first place, it brought the boys into personal contact with the men who were responsible for their membership in the Y.M.C.A. and, secondly, to give the Rotarians an opportunity to see the value of their investment in good citizenship made by sending the boys to the Y.

From the viewpoint of the All-rounders entertain the clubmen with their songs and jokes under the direction of Mr. Shoemaker.

It seems, according to the evidence, that the ball, belonging to children of H. P. Mitchell, 620 Dunedin Street, had been kicked into the garden of Mrs. M. C. Matheson, 619 Dunedin Street. When Mr. Mitchell was refused return of the ball, he took the ash can cover of the plaintiff, with the intention of "opening negotiations in a neighborly manner."

Mr. Mitchell was charged with assaulting Mrs. Matheson during his attempt to regain the ball. The case was adjourned to-day to give the accused an opportunity to bring witnesses to the stand. Mr. Harrison, who had been playing with the ball on March 31, the day in question.

SIR A. STRONG VISITOR HERE

Sir Archibald Strong, professor of English at the University of Adelaide, South Australia, and a delegate to the Conference on Education, reached Victoria this morning and is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, 619 Dunedin Avenue. Sir Archibald has been associated with the Adelaide University as professor of English since 1922.

Son of the late Herbert Augustus Strong, professor of classics at the University of Melbourne, he was educated at Sedburgh School, Liverpool, University, Magdalen College, Oxford and the Middle Temple.

Witness No. 12 was interested in the entertainment.

In answer to questions by the city prosecutor, Harrison admitted he had talked with the complainant in regard to the drink which he alleged the latter offered him. Furthermore, there had been some talk about a piece of paper which Dunnett had on a piece of paper.

Rolling had also asked them to give a fancy to them, and they had written false names down in his book, said witness.

DID NOT WANT HIM

"We did not know him and we did not want him coming to see us," he explained.

Mr. Tait moved for dismissal of the case, declaring there was not one jot of evidence connected to the two accused with the case.

Mr. Harrison suggested there was an element of time in the matter which must be considered. The two had left the place about the same time as Rolling and would have had time to commit the offence before arriving at the place where the offence was committed, he testified. Moreover, Harrison's statement to Mr. De Gruchy that he was going home might indicate a guilty mind.

Magistrate Jay said he would consider the evidence and give judgment to-morrow.

BOYS EXPRESS APPRECIATION

Thirty Members of Rotary Group in Y.M.C.A. Thank Benefactors at Luncheon

Thirty members of the All-rounders, the Y.M.C.A. boys group, sponsored by the Rotary Club, thanked their benefactors at a luncheon held in appreciation of the work being done by them by the club at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Empress Hotel to-day.

Shore speaker, Mr. E. B. Rutledge, president of the All-round and John Newbrough, vice president, assured the Rotarians that the youngsters were deriving great benefit from the training in the Y.M.C.A. and thanked the club for securing them memberships.

While speaking John Newbrough stated that he hoped the Rotarians would attend meetings of the boys' organization in order to see just what progress was being made by them.

DEVELOPING GOOD CITIZENS

Lorne Procter, leader of the group, assured the gathering that any interest which the Rotarians might take in the boys would be repaid by making the youngsters into good citizens.

From the viewpoint of the Boys' Work Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., Vivian Shoemaker stated that the boys were one of the most progressive groups in the association. The Rotarians' ideal of developing the boys in an all-round manner was working out excellently in practice, he added. At the Y.M.C.A. they were attempting to develop the All-rounders' personalities and characters and, as far as he could see, the boys were progressing very favorably.

VALUABLE INVESTMENT

Chairman of the boys' work committee of the Rotary Club introduced the boys by name. In his opening remarks he stated that the purpose of the luncheon was twofold. In the first place, it brought the boys into personal contact with the men who were responsible for their membership in the Y.M.C.A. and, secondly, to give the Rotarians an opportunity to see the value of their investment in good citizenship made by sending the boys to the Y.

From the viewpoint of the All-rounders entertain the clubmen with their songs and jokes under the direction of Mr. Shoemaker.

COURT HEARS OF ATTACK ON HADIAN AT WHARF

Judgment Reserved By Magistrate Jay in Cases of Hutton and Dunnett

Youths Submitted to Lengthy Grilling By City Prosecutor Harrison

Judgment was reserved by Magistrate George Jay in City Police Court this morning in the case of John Hutton and John Dunnett, facing charges of robbing William Rolling with personal violence.

The offence is alleged to have occurred at the foot of Fort Street on the night of March 9 when the two accused are said to have followed Rolling out of the Army and Navy Veterans' quarters, and after striking him, taking about $10 from his person.

Five witnesses were called by the prosecution. Rolling said he had met two youths who looked like the accused in the Army and Navy quarters and that they had enticed him out with promises of "something stronger to drink." He had gone with them to a wharf at the foot of Fort Street, where he had been struck behind the ear and on the right cheek, being blind on that side. When he recovered himself sufficiently his money, amounting to about $10 or $11, and his Peace River homestead papers had been taken. He returned to the club and reported it.

WENT OUT TOGETHER

The four other crown witnesses, Harold E. Roberts, Alec Rogers and William De Gruchy, naval men, and Capt. E. G. Alcock, secretary of the Navy League here, agreed that Dunnett and Hutton had been in the club on the night in question. The two had been sitting at a table with Rolling and had gone out about the same time as Rolling. The latter returned later with his face bleeding, reporting that he had been robbed.

Mr. De Gruchy asked that when they were going out Hutton, whom he knew, had told him he was going home.

D. S. Tait, defence counsel, in his cross-examination, attempted to show that the complainant, Rolling, was befuddled.

"FELT DRY"

Dunnett, who took the stand first in his own defence, declared he had arrived at the Army and Navy Club about 8:30 p.m. He had gone there with Hutton, the two having "felt dry" before going to a dance at the Posters' Hall. They had met Rolling and had had a beer with him.

Last Rolling had told him to go to his room at the Y.M.C.A. and have a drink, said witness. He and Hutton had declined, however, stating they intended to go to the dance. They had then left the building and gone to the Foresters' Hall.

In a grilling cross-examination which lasted for half an hour, G. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, checked the movements of the accused throughout the evening.

"GOING HOME"

Hutton's evidence was in substance similar to that of the other accused. Mr. Harrison questioned him with regard to his statement to Mr. De Gruchy that he was "going home."

"When you knew that you were going to the dance, did you tell him this because you had some other mission in mind?" Mr. Harrison asked.

"No, I was a little forgetful," replied Hutton.

Mr. Harrison—Did you have much conversation with the other chief witness, No. 12, who was interested in the entertainment?

In answer to questions by the city prosecutor, Harrison admitted he had talked with the complainant in regard to the drink which he alleged the latter offered him. Furthermore, there had been some talk about a piece of paper which Dunnett had on a piece of paper.

Rolling had also asked them to give a fancy to them, and they had written false names down in his book, said witness.

"We did not know him and we did not want him coming to see us," he explained.

BOYS EXPRESS APPRECIATION

Thirty Members of Rotary Group in Y.M.C.A. Thank Benefactors at Luncheon</

WHITNEY LETTER

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.

New York, April 4.—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says today:

RAIDING—Yesterday's market began to exhibit the irregularity which was to be expected at approximately this time. The general market having demonstrated that conditions are not right for any broad advance and equally opposed to any broad decline. Many more sessions similar to yesterday can be looked for in the next few weeks. When the general market trend will be a rather uncertain thing to discuss. Call money rates continue their downward trend as was expected but did not bring higher prices to yesterday's market, due almost entirely to the circulation of rumors combined with three or four distinct, raids made by a group which was backing its opinion that the rally had gone far enough and there was a chance to make a good trading turn on the short side.

Despite the report which was broadcast that to-day would witness an advance in redaction, the market can be said to have been a market of the thought that there will be no change, the loan statement is expected to show nothing but a negligible change from the figures which appeared a week ago.

"I believe that on any further attempts which may be made to-day to capitalize the uncertainty and nervousness which usually accompany Thursday, that the stocks which have been recommended here should be bought. The oil group received a technical setback to the accompaniment of much publicity and the rediscovery of the Sherman anti-trust law. The oil conservation program will be worked out to a successful conclusion and the first reaction which has been suffered by the group provides a very good spot for those who have taken their commitments in the oil stocks."

COMMENT—In the oil group on this reaction buy Standard of New Jersey, Standard of New York, Pan American in particular. An excellent quality of buy, minor dip in United States Steel and American Can. If these issues are not owned they should be bought on a technical basis. American Can. available below 120 and U.S. Steel below 180.

"Marine Preferred is given a reaction each time it is directed to it, indicating that public participation is not wanted at the prevailing level, consequently continue to buy it within the range of 47 to 48. A similar reaction is being adopted with regard to associated Dry Goods, so continue to buy this issue between 56 and 60."

"General Refractories is at its low of the year. Buy this quarter reports showed approximately $2.00 a share earned. Official estimates are for between $2.00 and $3.00 per share for the year 1929. An increase in dividends scheduled for the next directors meeting. I consider the stock materially underpriced at the prevailing level."

Market Moves

By CAPLAN

Exclusive Over B.C. Bond Leased Wire

New York, April 4.—We do not attempt to guess what the effect of the latest liquidation will have on brokers' loans. We do feel, however, that customers' accounts are in better shape to-day, and this in itself should be a sufficient stimulus towards further buying. Worry about the discount rate should not influence the "buy" to any extent. The buying movement, however, should be centered around issues and groups which are in an attractive technical position. It is a self-evident fact that the cheapest stocks on the board are the oil issues. Nearly all of them are selling substantially below their equities and on a highly attractive ratio to their last year's earnings. It is the future of this industry, however, that caused the buying movement, and we believe that the future has not been decided to-day. The position of the group is therefore highly favorable and commitments are recommended.

On the other hand, copper issues have had their day and, even the highest prices for the red metal have been almost fully discounted by the movements in these stocks. Gradual liquidation of copper issues can be looked for and we recommend utilizing the strength in the market for switching from copper into oils. For the first time in several weeks, we could trace accumulations in individual issues which on previous occasions have enjoyed strong sponsorship.

We believe that several pools are again ready to begin operations, and with the market again in their favor, high levels for a number of specialties can be looked for.

When the market interests associated themselves with Pierce-Fenwick we said ultimately the latter company will become a subsidiary of Studebaker. We believe that a plan would benefit both companies. It would also establish Studebaker in the high priced field. Yesterday's utterances of President Esch are in line with our predictions. Pierce-Fenwick preferred stockholders will be offered Studebaker stock, and ultimately also the common stockholders. With this accomplished, Studebaker's position in the automobile field changes. Instead of being a large organization, it will become one of the largest. Ultimately a lower priced motor will also be produced in this organization, thus making Studebaker a close rival of General Motors and Chrysler. It will be some time before the plans will be completed, but before that a good market in Studebaker should develop. The stock still appeals to us as being one of the most conservatively priced motor issues in the entire market.

Texas Corporation reached the old

N.Y. Market Gossip

New York, April 4.—E. A. Pierce & Company to-day say: "Thus far on the secondary reaction the market has met with good support above the low level established on March 26. However, it is still too early to conclude that the correction of the market's technical position has been completed, and we think the market must meet a further test before it resumes its major upward trend."

The majority of sound and seasoned issues met with an increased demand on reactions, reflecting the fact that the supply of investment stocks is not excessive. While we believe that further technical readjustments may be witnessed in the next few weeks, nevertheless we feel that good stocks, purchased on reactions, will show worthwhile profits before the middle of this year.

"Texas Company is one of the outstanding issues in the oil group. Considering its developed oil reserves and dividend-paying ability, it seems reasonable to anticipate prices of better than $100 per share for the stock when conditions in the oil industry are normal."

"Phillips Petroleum is trending strongly upward. The stock has been meeting with the best kind of buying, and should sell much higher on the current move. We consider it one of the best values in the oil group."

"Mexican Seaboard Oil—An extended short interest has been built up on the stock, but the price is still in the out of line with past earnings. However, the shorts have not allowed for a large increase in the company's earnings from its San Joaquin properties. We think the stock will sell much higher in the near future."

(Over R. P. Clark Wire)

New York, April 4.—Continue to treat this market as purely a trading affair. Outside influences which have been operating against the market are still in evidence and until they have been removed the market is open to wide fluctuations either way. Several of the big traders who had a lot to do with getting stocks to their high level of prices are now waiting for the credit situation to be straightened out.

"The oils continue to do better and will keep on doing so. Several of those called to your attention Tuesday advanced quite sharply and are open to further advance due to special considerations."

"General Refractories has made its appearance in Mohawk Carpet again, and better prices will be seen for the stock. Those in a position to know what is going on in Mohawk expect to see it move ahead into new high ground above 80 immediately. The company is doing an excellent business and is declared to have booked new contracts for 1929."

Texas Gulf Sulphur should move sharply once it gets through 82."

Sales Volume Down

On Bond Market

New York, April 4.—Bonds to-day held fairly steady in face of continued high time money rates. Dealers are demanding nine per cent for short maturities and 8 1/2 to 9 per cent for the longer dates, although call money was reported in supply in the outside market at 8 per cent.

Traders pointed to the current rates for commercial paper, which is paying between 6 1/2 and 7 per cent with the grade bonds, as one of the many reasons investors are not buying. Commercial paper with prime names is quoted at 6 1/2 to 6 per cent with the bulk of the paper moving at the higher figure.

Bond sales were running behind yesterday's volume. Rails encountered some selling in the early trading, but the rest of the list held around yesterday's closing levels.

Standard Oil of New Jersey—5 1/2, dropped more than a point to a new low for the year, but New Haven continued to rise to a new high.

Albany Telephone, 5 1/2, very firm and International Telephone convertible 4 1/2, were actively bought around 12 1/2. Commercial Investment Trust 5 1/2, also active.

Trading in the foreign list was dull and featureless.

Willys-Overland

Sets New Record

New York, April 4.—Willys-Overland produced 35,000 cars in March, against 32,000 in the same month last year, making 100,000 cars produced in the first quarter of this year, a new high record.

Briggs Going North

To Revive Woodbine

HARRY BRIGGS, who has been visiting Victoria, this week, announced that he will leave next Monday for Stewart, B.C., where he will take charge of the Woodbine Mine for the shareholders in an effort to put the property on its feet again.

Mr. Briggs said that a crew of eleven men were being sent on the property to push development.

SILVER

London, April 4.—Bar silver, 25 1/2 per ounce. Discount rates: three months 5 1/2, 5 1/2 per cent; three months 5 1/2, 5 1/2 per cent.

New York, April 4.—Bar silver, 56; Mexican dollars, 42 1/2.

high for the year this week, and should move to higher levels. Within a few weeks the results of the curtailment programme adopted last week by the American Petroleum Institute will become evident. Texas is admittedly prepared to benefit from the prospects. Only recently the company purchased large stores of crude oil at prices that are considered exceptionally low. This in addition to its own large supply of crude oil, should enable the company to show much better earnings than it did in 1928. The stock is still selling about ten points below the high it sold at last year, when conditions in the industry were not as pessimistic as they appear to-day.

STOCKS SHOOT UP: MONEY DROPS 6: YOUNGSTOWN SOARS

Wall Street, New York, April 4 (By R.C. Bond)—Although sales dropped to the smallest total for some weeks, prices of stocks shot forward vigorously to-day.

Money dropped from 10 per cent to 6 per cent in the latter part of the session.

At the close of the Dow Jones average of 30 Industrials stood at 305.37, up 5.02 points for the day, while average of 20 rails stood at 131.10, up 2.33 points for the day.

After the close it was announced that the Federal Reserve had made no change in the rediscount rate.

Youngstown Steel was the feature of the market. From yesterday's close at 113 1/4, Youngstown opened 10 points up this morning and climbed to 130.

The stock tickers announced that it is not likely that Youngstown Steel and Tube would increase its common dividend this year, but an extra payment may be authorized at the end of the year. It is reported that current earnings of Youngstown are at the rate of $1.25 monthly.

Maytag sold up to a new high at 25 1/2. Steel climbed from 180 to over 190.

The oils were featureless to-day, as considerable liquidation in oil stocks yesterday was reported. At the first of the week, it was thought that at least the 11 1/2 of over-production of previous years were about to be cured, but this belief received a rude shock at the announced opinion of Attorney General Mitchell, who declared that the proposed conservation programme would be in contravention of the anti-trust laws. However, E. B. Reiser, president of the American Petroleum Institute, is optimistic on the ultimate outcome of the plan.

Yellow Truck again sold at 40, despite the company's report made public to-day showing the 1928 consolidated net loss was $1,041,011, on the year's business. This compares with a net loss of $6,853,591 in 1927, after expenses and depreciation.

One of the largest commission houses which has recently been credited with being active in Texas Gulf Sulphur estimates that earnings for the first quarter of this year may approximate $2 a share. It adds that the development work on the new dome has been about completed, the establishment of $5 a share dividend rate is an early possibility.

Being active in Texas Gulf Sulphur, Chrysler from sources which are said to have taken position on holdings some time ago and are now re-accumulating their long position are more favorable levels. Apparently the Chrysler organization is speeding up for the most significant change is the latest report on automobile production which shows the Dodge branch turned out 6,650 cars, compared with 4,400 cars the preceding week.

Bethlehem Steel common holders are taking some encouragement from the extemporaneous statement made by officials at the annual meeting this week. Many readings between the lines of the statement with favorable conditions prevailing in the coming months, something more liberal in the way of dividends will be done for this issue.

The Baldwin Locomotive-Westinghouse-American Steel Foundries deal is reported on again, and this time it is believed it will be carried to a conclusion. The activity in Baldwin will continue, inasmuch as it is the leader in the group.

Current trade news remains distinctly favorable, but there is noted an increase in predictions from statistical bureau to the effect that industrial activity may be contracted. These forecasts, it is true, have not been prominently and aggressively advanced, but it may be possible that their existence is having some effect in forming the uncertain and nervous background of the Standard Oil of New Jersey has assumed a definite role of leadership in the movement of the oils. It is the first one of the prominent stocks to move to a new high for all time, better than 75 is anticipated for it before mid-year.

New York, April 4.—After confusion in the early part of the session the market developed definite strength in the afternoon, led by the steel and by General Motors. American Can was another exceptionally strong performer. The leadership which the market enjoyed, after it emerged from the floundering of the morning, undoubtedly led traders to the more interesting in the buying side, although the turn-over for the day was not large. The tape had no trouble keeping up with the transactions, and at time during the afternoon the market was positively wild.

Call money renewed at 10 per cent, which caused a little disappointment, but demand was light, with more than sufficiency of funds. Consequent in the afternoon money was available at 6 per cent, which is the lowest rate in some time.

Business on Bethlehem Steel has been sharply accentuated during the past few days by the very optimistic statements made by President Grace at the annual meeting. His remarks were interpreted, among other things, to mean that hereafter stockholders would be in a position to receive larger proportion of net profits in the form of dividends.

Short covering was rather active in the afternoon, and the street appeared to be not at all disturbed over the weekly meeting of the New York Reserve Board, and there was much less nervousness over the possible result of the Federal Reserve conference in Washington. Considerable attention was given to the remarks of Waddill, Catchesides and Bros. Foster, in which they maintained that the present central banking policy might easily keep business men in an apprehensive state instead of alleviating the situation.

MONTREAL HOLDING IN NARROW RANGE.

Imperial Oil, new stock, on sale, at 100. The stock is being quoted now on the Montreal Curb at a price around 20.

Montreal, April 4 (By B.C. Bond).—Imperial Oil, new stock, on sale, at 100. The stock is being quoted now on the Montreal Curb at a price around 20.

Montreal, April 4 (By B.C. Bond).—Net earnings of International Nickel for the first quarter of this year, apart from the bond results, it is understood, will be practically double those of the corresponding quarter of last year. The great growth in the value of nickel throughout the world was commented on by the president in the annual report and the steady increase in profits is tangible evidence of this.

Work on the Frood Mine is being pushed with all possible haste and it is when this element comes into regular production that the spectacular increase in earnings will be forthcoming, according to those leading interests who have been and still are optimistic about the future of the company.

Imperial Oil and International Petroleum appeared to suffer in trading here partly from a declaration of the Attorney-General of the United States that the oil conservation board is without authority to grant immunity from operations of anti-trust laws and that therefore there may be delay in solving the oil over-production problem.

The Montreal market shows no inclination to come out of its narrow trading area, pursuing an irregular price course, and remains very much under the influence of highly uncertain credit conditions. A generally firm undertone prevails and while no great buying power is apparent, the market here for the time being seems in steady ground and gives indications of a greatly improved technical position as a result of the drastic shakeout in the latter part of March.

Imperial Oil, OUTLOOK GOOD.—Official announcement of the proposed split of Imperial Oil shares on a four-for-one basis is in line with the policy of the company in keeping their shares at levels which bring them within reach of the great mass of investors. The company's outlook was never brighter. In the light of recent developments in the Turner Valley, and because steps are on foot to place the oil industry the world over on a sound basis.

NEWSPRINT GAINING.—Presenting at the annual meeting of shareholders of the Abitibi Power & Paper Co., held here yesterday, the president, Alexander Smith, found signs of encouragement in the newsprint industry, pointing to the quite substantial increase in the consumption of newsprint paper, particularly in the United States. While the outlook is not as yet entirely clear, Mr. Smith observed that it might be safe to estimate the output of newsprint in Canada would be 75 per cent or more of capacity for the current year, which would be a decided improvement over that of the last six months.

The meeting was largely a routine affair and resulted in the re-election of the board of directors. Canadian Consolidated Pulp for the year 1928 shows a net profit of $79,911, against $27,111 in 1927.

Canadian Brewing for the year 1928 reflects the purchase of Empire Breweries. Operating profits were $27,623, deductions—license fees, etc., $230,035; depreciation $74,575; accounts written off, $8,644; provisions for income tax, $18,000; reserved for taxes which are disputed, $8,332; balance, $233,108 in 1928, against $134,448 in 1927. Outstanding shares were increased from 100,000 to 118,000.

BRAZILIAN ACTIVE TRADER.—As in the past, Brazilian moves attracted a good outside following and it is believed that it may prove a good trading medium over the next few weeks. For the present, however, any sharp upturn appears to have induced the acceptance of short quick profits, and these traders are in the market again on recede.

The break rally in International Nickel last week also attracted profit-taking, but the stock seemed fairly well supported on dips.

QUIET DEMAND UNDER MARKET.—A quiet but persistent demand appears to underlie the market at the present time, and given more aggressive sponsorship, somewhat higher prices could be attained, as the technical position is understood to be satisfactory and wide support is in evidence on any declines.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

(By H. E. Hunning & Co.)

Toronto, April 4.—One thing is evident, there is plenty of money around the purchase of mining stocks when prices move to a level making them attractive to those who have the money.

One broker comes out this morning and says there are numerous inquiries on the Canadian mining stock list and the better class of stocks, almost without exception, may be bought with the reasonable probability of appreciating in price over a short period. Another says selection of good mines bought on substantial margin is being urged on clients by conservative houses. Allurements of many bargains conducive to overbuying on credit might bring new buyers to the market.

A diamond drill campaign is to be started on Latic and the drill has already arrived on the property and will be set up this week-end. This should be good news for shareholders of Newbec owing to their interest in this property.

This north says New York and Toronto capital is interested in a scheme to amalgamate several Porcupine properties north of Dome and stretching from the 2000 level to the 1000 level. It is reported the core from the fifth diamond drill hole on Central Patricia shows good results. The assay results have been given out. Assay results from surface channel samples show average gold values of over $12 per ton for a width of over seven feet. The core shows on surface is over 700 feet long. Seventy tons of material have been taken out of the hole and is being taken out of the hole.

Work on Alderme is being concentrated on the bottom level and work on the 600-foot level has been temporarily suspended. Crosscutting on the lowest level is being done to the north-east to the diabase dyke and it is estimated 500 feet more work will have to be done before reaching the dyke area.

Work is also going to the southeast to explore a promising-looking section. All told eleven diamond drill holes were put out on to bottom levels, seven feet deep and the remaining four were left.

It is doubtful if the north has ever produced richer gold specimens than the Bobb's high-grade. It is like one of those marble mines with the gold in streaks and bands as thick as a man's little finger.

Ray Hovey, one of the two famous Hovey brothers, is believed to be organizing his own companies on the Crow River around the big fellows were making.

WHITNEY'S WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE STOCK MARKET

Supplied by Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.

New York, April 4.—"The past week has continued to witness the subject of credit control in relation to the stock market, as the front liner, in financial affairs. The policy of direct action now being pursued by the Federal Reserve authorities, which seems to have culminated in the eight million share day of March 26, accompanied by assistance rendered the market by the National City Bank of New York under the direction of its president, Mr. C. E. Mitchell, the latter action seems to have won the approval of the majority of the upward trend of the price of the red metal.

A rather vigorous rally in the market has been sustained in Wednesday's and Thursday's market, previous to the triple holiday. The rally was almost as spectacular as the recession that had preceded it, however, the advance was short-lived and initial prices on Monday were somewhat below the levels of the close on Thursday.

"Selling, no doubt, was inspired to a large extent by the disappointment manifested in the rather meagre results of the close on Thursday. However, pressure was quite pronounced in the petroleum issues to-day on reports emanating from Washington to the effect that the administration is not in full accord with the proposed restriction programme. The various weekly trade reports were more or less of an optimistic tenor. Reports indicate that a majority of the automotive companies established record production figures during the month of March.

"News from the various steel companies indicates no abatement in the demand for iron and steel, reflecting a high level of activity in the steel-consuming industries. Car-loading figures released to-day indicate a good sized increase for the week ended March 25. No doubt earnings of the various copper companies, which will shortly be released, covering the first quarter of the current year, will show up exceedingly well in view of the upward trend of the price of the red metal.

"Sugar continues weak. Sales of raw sugar yesterday added at 1 27-32 cents C and E. Duty-free sugars were opened last night at the price indicated, with refiners indifferently interested at 1 13-17 cents. Sales of raw sugar during the week approximated 41,000 tons. Refined sugar quotations remain unchanged at 4.90 basis, but second-hands are offered at 4.75 and 4.80. The trade is still liberally supplied with sugar. The futures market continues unsettled with the trend apparently towards lower levels. One week ago the average closing quotations for the active months were 2.10, while yesterday, the same month averaged 2.08, although surface conditions do not seem encouraging at present. There is increasing demand of interest in sugar in view of the present low prices, which are decidedly below production costs. Cuban sugar production is now approximately 80 per cent completed."

"SALADA" TEA

'Fresh from the gardens'

"LOVE IS OF THE VALLEY"

By DAVID LYALL

"Are you going to sell the house and its contents?" asked Beatrice, for there were some heirlooms there, which had belonged to the Herons, and which ought not to be removed from their proper niche.

"I may and I may not. Everything will depend—these are matters for the lawyers to settle. They have a tangled skein to unwind. Miss Heron. Have you any plans for the future?"

"Yes," answered Beatrice steadily. "I have some."

Suddenly, and without waiting for further elucidation, Mrs. Brodie diverted the talk into a new channel.

"I have had a cable from my son to do nothing until he returns."

"Where is he?" asked Beatrice with no particular interest, remembering, indeed, for the first time, that there was a young Brodie engaged in some kind of service in the east.

"He has got leave and is coming very soon. Where is he? Oh, in Singapore at the moment. Interested in big things there—Scotland was not big enough to hold him."

"You cabled the news to him, then?"

"We did, but he does not know yet the tragic circumstances, and he left before a letter could reach him."

Across the void and the waste of waters, Beatrice Heron waited a message of sympathy and fellow-feeling to Compton Brodie's son, though why she could not have told. The wind of the spirit which bloweth where it listeth leads us sometimes into pastures new, where there are green and lovely things, and rest. But sometimes we can be warded by the same wind to arid desert which can be made to blossom like the rose.

Beatrice rose suddenly from her chair, aware that the interview had ended.

"Won't you wait and have some tea?" asked Mrs. Brodie, but her tone lacked warmth.

"No, thank you. I will walk down to the village and get some at the inn. Mrs. Meldrum is an old friend of mine."

"They are all old friends of yours, it would seem, Miss Heron. You left Linmore, but you took the best with you. I have never regarded you as anything but interlopers here, an ungrateful, unscrupulous crew they are—I shall be glad to turn my back on them, and to let them know that I am glad."

All the envious, the strong resentment which a small and selfish nature can muster breathed through these self-revealing words. She had not intended to speak them; once past the portals of her lips, however, they could neither be explained, mitigated nor withdrawn.

"I am sorry you have found them that, Mrs. Brodie, faithfulness and loyalty are precious. Don't grudge the poor Herons a little of memory's sweetness. It is all they have left."

She went out with that, from an interview which from no point of view could be called successful or satisfactory. She had learned naught of what she wished to learn, but two salient points stood out. Evidently Mrs. Brodie had been left well provided for, and the son and heir and representative of the dead man was on his way home.

These two facts might alter, or at least color her own scheme of things. She had a curious feeling at the back of her mind that they would.

CHAPTER VI

The village of Marrieston was quite close to Linmore. One of Mrs. Brodie's grievances against the place was that, the old gateway opened on the village street. It was a long, straggling street, typically Scottish in design and architecture, if it could be said to possess either. There was no attempt at regularity or picturesque effect in grouping the houses, nevertheless something characteristic and arresting had been achieved. Its proximity to the gates of the "big house" was reminiscent of the old days when village folk looked to the lairds for protection—even at the point of the sword.

The Herons had been associated with the life of Marrieston for so many generations that the village had not taken kindly to the new rule. Beatrice, therefore, had a sense of nearness and familiarity almost amounting to comfort as she stepped through the lodge gates and turned in the falling dusk down the village street.

She knew that though circumstances, never fully explained, but certainly sinister, had turned them out of the old home which was the cradle of their race, that they were beloved, and never would be forgotten by the people.

The village inn, which had neither name nor sign post, stood only about a hundred yards from the gates. It was a whitewashed two-storied building, with faded green facings to the door and windows, and stood far enough back from the roadway to give suggestion of a small courtyard.

An old draw well in the middle of the space added to the illusion, its mouth firmly boarded down, while a wooden seat was erected round the old post, to which the buckets had been attached. A new water supply, drawn from the pure sources of the Pentland hills, had been one of the new laird's only partly appreciated benefactions to the village. The landlady, Mrs. Meldrum, a very stout, jovial-looking person, saw Miss Heron leave the Linmore gates, because she had missed no incident of that eventful day, and was waiting to receive her.

"Come awa' in, Miss Beatrice," she said kindly and with a quick starting tear as her warm hand enfolded the thin cold fingers of her who was now the chief hope of the stricken family. "I've been waiting for ye. Your tea's ready. I kent ye wouldn't be takin' tea up there. It's just ready twenty minutes since the coaches gied by."

Beatrice did not dream of resenting this kindly espousal, knowing full well that the very word and woot of village life.

"Thank you, Mrs. Meldrum. I could have had tea with Mrs. Brodie, but I excused myself because I wanted to see you."

"Fine I kent," said Mrs. Meldrum, and led the way into her own little living-room at the back, where a fair linen cloth was spread on the table and the white-and-gold china, used only on high days and holidays, set out on the tray. Scones and oatcakes and rolls of pure golden fresh butter, home-made jam and a kebuck of cheese, all proclaimed their welcome.

While a china hen proudly surveyed the scene from the middle, suggesting the possibility of new-laid eggs.

"They're in the pan, Miss Beatrice," said Mrs. Meldrum coaxingly. "Laid this very morning, too. I'm deid sure it's very little deener—I mean, lunch—if you've eaten the day. So come awa' ben, an' mak' a good tea."

Beatrice smiled, and at sight of the food became conscious of the physical weakness which supervenes on a long fast.

She dropped into a chair, feeling the comfort of being able to relax while she accepted this cup of cold water from a kindly hand. Sudden deliciousness filled in her eyes, and Mrs. Meldrum's were not dry.

"Wheest, wheest, lammie," she said, wiping her eyes as she ran out to bring in the teapot. "You'll have tea with me, Mrs. Meldrum, or I don't eat a bite," said Beatrice firmly.

"Well, if that's the set o'd, I'll get another cup," said Mrs. Meldrum, smiling happily. "No a crater will come in here, lammie, for I've gien my orders, and after you've had your tea Flack Finlay will drive ye in the gig to Marrieston Junction to get the five o'clock, and ye'll be in Edinburgh in a jiffy. It doesn't stop till it gets to Waverley. Maybe ye mind the five o'clock? It was your father that got it to stop at Marrieston, and mony a body has been gied o't."

Beatrice nodded, and began to eat with a relish which surprised herself. "Mrs. Meldrum, there is no good food in town," she said with a queer twist of her lips. "Everything is mixed adulterated, sometimes poisoned. Everything that is real and dear is in the lap of the hills."

Mrs. Meldrum stopped her tea and then, leaning her elbows on the table, looked across at her honored guest.

"Miss Beatrice, it's a' leas what they are sayin' I ken, and it's no Marrieston folk that says it, but the cottins frae the big house an' the folk they peev we that ken the auld laird shut their mouths as well as we can, but it's an ill world."

Beatrice accepted the challenge and invitation, and after she had eaten a bit of scone and delicious butter, she met Mrs. Meldrum's gaze squarely.

To be continued

According to the International Congress of Chets, an egg is "new laid" for ten to twelve days; it is "fresh" until it is twenty-one days old, then it becomes a "coddling egg."

RADIO BOARD TO BE HERE SOON

Commission on Broadcasting Expected in City About April 15

In the course of its Western tour of Canada, the Canadian Radio Commission of which Sir John Aird is chairman, is expected in Victoria about April 15. The board was originally announced to reach here April 1, but according to the local Dominion Radiotelegraph office will not arrive for two weeks.

A list of suggestions for the consideration of the commission has been prepared and published by the Victoria Radio Club. Opinions of radio listeners in regard to Canadian broadcasting policies will be recommended it is anticipated.

Garden City

A pleasant evening was spent on Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Holden on Gladstone Avenue, when friends surprised Mr. Holden on his birthday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Tuppen, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Tuppen, Mr. and Mrs. Kent, Miss Audrey Buckler, Miss Florence Thomas of Saskatchewan, and Mr. David Sim.

Mrs. Burton and family, Grange Road, have taken up residence at Gordon Road.

J. Drennen, Grange Road, returned to Duncan on Sunday.

Smart Doings Of Animals

A Dog Which Tapped Time
A man in the passenger department of the Pennsylvania Railroad used to have a dog that gained a fair idea of how to tell time.

There was a fine clock in the office and the owner of the dog got into the habit of making him tap with his paw at each stroke of the clock. The dog noticed that just before the clock would strike it gave a sort of preliminary click and soon got to tapping the time without command from his master.

He could be tricked, though, in the following way: If the clock had struck one and a little later the master initiated the click of the clock, the dog would give two taps with his paw, and so on for the succeeding hours. He apparently had memorized the order in which the hours struck, but his observation was confined to hearing and not to seeing.

AUNT JEMIMA Pancake Flour

Pancakes with the Buckwheat Flavour

For a change in pancake flavour get Aunt Jemima prepared Buckwheat Flour. It is Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour with just enough buckwheat flour added to give the real buckwheat tang. In yellow packages.

On a southern plantation years ago, Aunt Jemima compounded a wonderful pancake recipe. Her pancakes were admired for their tenderness and flavour. Her recipe, a mixture of flours you can hardly buy in any store, is now the most widely used recipe in all the world.

You can easily make just as good pancakes as Aunt Jemima did—with all their lightness and delicacy—their flavour—their appetizing aroma—just as nourishing and satisfying. To a cup of Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour add a cup of milk (or water will do). Stir to a smooth batter. Pour on a hot griddle, preferably of cast iron. Cook over a moderate fire. Order Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour from your grocer to-day. Pancakes give a delightful variation to Lenten diet for breakfast, lunch or supper. On each package are other tasty recipes.

Into the cabin they all jumped. My, how the Tintin's wee hearts thumped. They knew that very shortly some new air ride was in store. The tub man, who stayed on the ground said, "I don't know where you are bound, but anyway you're going there. That's what this trip is for."

"I'm paying now a debt to you for chasing off the Gootygoos, when it was taking punches at my funny little face. I guess the queer bird, after all, is sorry that he stopped to call. Right now it's up to him to take you to some thrilling place."

"Now, do just what I've told you all. Hang on real tight, and do not fall. The cabin's plenty wide enough to let you ride in ease. Your bird can't talk. That is a shame. Of course, though, he is not to blame. Don't tell him where to go 'cause he can't listen to your pleas."

Just then the Gootygoos spoke out.

"I know what this is all about, and don't you think I can't talk. I do it very well. At first I thought your crazy bunch of hitching me up for this bunch was not so good, but now I've changed my mind. It's really swell."

"I'm going to take these little men away out far and back again. They're very safe and sound with me through-out the night and day. I'll fly, and will not let them drop. And some queer place is where I'll stop. If everything's all ready, now, we'll start upon our way."

With that the Gootygoos spread out its wings, and with a merry shout, it took the little cabin and flew upwards toward the sky. The Tintin's leaned out and cried, "Hurray! Now starts a brand new ride." And then to Mister Tub Man they all waved a sad goodbye.

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1929
Contrary planetary influences mark to-day, according to astrology. It is a day in which to control the temper and to seek spiritual encouragement.

Women should benefit from this configuration which should incline them to selfish deeds and should increase their interest in philanthropies.
The day is supposed to be lucky for the wearing of new clothes and for the introduction of new fashions.

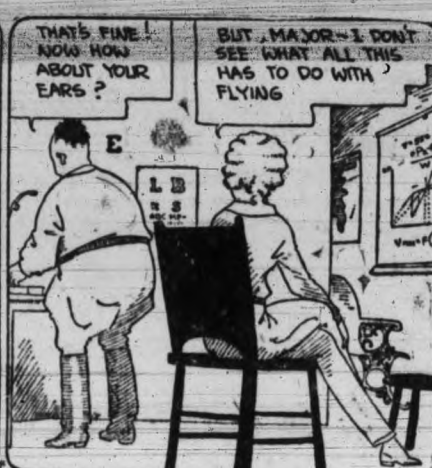

Under this away there may be an inclination to be lazy and careless. Church-going may be less alluring than outdoor sports.
It is not a lucky day for letter-writing and lovers who take pens in hands are risking misunderstandings. It is foretold. Newspapers to-day may contain news that is distressing or at least depressing to the general public.

All the stars seem to pressure exposure of corruption in many cities and increase of greed for gold that is satisfied through theft and even murder.
Restlessness and capriciousness may be tendencies among members of the family while this rule prevails. A slow answer will be most fortunate when peace is concerned. They who travel by air to-day should choose carefully their plane as well as their route.

Many marriages for this Spring are foretold and older as well as young folk will seek romance.
Persons whose birthdays it is may have a year of many odd experiences. They should be wary of strangers and slow to accept new friends.

Children born on this day probably will have artistic talent and ability to employ them profitably. The subjects of this sign make many friends and usually have successful careers.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Little Puddle

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate
By HOWARD E. GARIS

Not so very many years ago, say about as far as from one lollypop to another, there lived in a field, close by a running brook, a little Puddle of water. It was a cute Little Puddle, left there by the rain.

Around the edges of this Little Puddle grew green grass which whispered in the wind of flowers that were to bloom when the May sun would shine bright and warm. And in the Little Puddle were small stones, red, black and yellow in color.

"Oh, what a cute Little Puddle!" croaked Bully No Tail, the frog boy, one day as he was hopping across the field. "Look, Bully!"

"Sure, it's a cute Little Puddle," croaked the other frog. "But there isn't enough water there for you and me to swim in at the same time. Silly Little Puddle, I call it."

"No, there isn't much water," admitted Bully. "Hardly as much as there was in Uncle Wiggily's rubber boot!"

"Ha! Ha!" echoed Bully. "And the two frogs, with their jolly, big mouths laughed, as they remembered what a funny splash Uncle Wiggily made when he tried to put on his rubber boots, full of water, in which the green, jumping chaps had gone to bed. I told you that story yesterday if you will kindly remember."

What's the matter? asked Uncle Wiggily.

"There is no use of us trying to swim in that little puddle," went on Bully. "Come along and we'll jump in the brook over here."

"Last one in has to buy the chewing gum!" croaked Bully and away raced the two frogs to see who would be first to swim in the babbling brook not far from the Little Puddle. Bully won the race and his brother had to buy the chewing gum. But Bully didn't mind that.

"So, I am no good to swim in, eh? I am silly, am I? Not big enough even for a couple of green frogs?"

So the Little Puddle talked to itself after Bully and Bawly had gone to the brook. Oh, how disappointed it was! And so ashamed! For the Little Puddle was very fond of itself and had begun to imagine it was quite a pond, or perhaps even a lake, and might grow into a sea. But hearing what Bully and Bawly said, that Little Puddle was now quite unhappy.

"I'll show those croaking frogs!" whispered the Little Puddle. "I'll grow big and surprise them! Oh! That's what I'll do! I'll grow big!"

So the Little Puddle tried to puff itself up big, but it only remained the same size. Then it called out:

"No, Rain, splash more water in me

British Labor Men Discuss Defence Vote

London, April 4 (Canadian Cable).—The Independent Labor Party meeting at Carlisle yesterday, decided to instruct its 117 members in Parliament to vote against all war credits which include appropriations for the navy, army and air force, but the little danger of the abolition of services.
